Roosevelt, Wallace Silent on Proposals to Replace AAA

NO NEW PLAN RESULTS AT CONFAB

House Farm Committee Drafts Suggestions for Consideration

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8. (AP)—President Roosevelt and Secretary Wallace reserved decision today on attempts to replace the AAA but gave assurance "the government still has a very real interest in the farmer's welfare."

The secretary of agriculture and Chester Davis, administrator of the AAA killed by the supreme court, canvassed the situation with the President at lunch. They said no new plan had been agreed upon.

Five Plans
The house agricultural committee, summoned to an unexpected meeting by Chairman Jones (D., Tex.)—one of those who has conferred with Mr. Roosevelt—directed the drafting of five tentative plans for its consideration. They were:

1.—The domestic allotment plan.
2.—The export debenture proposal.
3.—Appropriations to various states on condition that such states establish an adjustment program similar to the AAA.
4.—Appropriations for a land leasing program.
5.—Conditional appropriations to individual farmers who comply with the conditions.

"We feel," Mr. Jones said, "that ways can be found under the limits set out in the decision to fashion a farm program that will at least in a measure offset the disadvantages which the farmers have under the national tariff system."

"We expect to have before the committee," Mr. Jones added, "the various methods that have been (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 6)

PRIEST TO TEST MONEY LAWS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8. (AP)—Father Charles E. Coughlin told reporters today he intended to file suit against the federal reserve board attacking the constitutionality of the 1913 federal reserve act and all its amendments.

The Detroit priest said he had two of the "best known men" in the country as attorneys. His statement was made shortly after he had talked with President Roosevelt in a 20-minute visit he described as "purely social."

His motive in filing the suit, he said, would be to "restore to congress the control over money."

VETS BREAK UP 'RED COLLEGE'

SEATTLE, Jan. 8. (AP)—Six asserted Communists were held in city prison today as an aftermath of a riot in which 100 raiders broke up an attempt to open a "Communist college" here.

The invaders, who described themselves as World war veterans, burst in upon the meeting immediately after police arrested five leaders of the school for attempting to hold a class in defiance of Mayor Charles Smith's orders.

DOUG HAS 'NOTHING TO SAY'

Doug Fairbanks, one-time "Don Juan" of the screen, arrived in New York last night and declared he had "nothing to say" regarding himself and Lady Sylvia Ashley. Doug's divorce decree from Mary Pickford becomes final Friday, leaving him free to marry again and sources in London's fashionable Mayfair regarded it extremely likely that the two would marry soon. Above: The two off for a sleigh ride in St. Moritz. Lady Ashley was divorced by her noble English husband on charges of misconduct with Fairbanks. Fairbanks said today he definitely was retiring as an actor.

DOUGSILENT FOOD PRICES ON PLANS UNCHANGED

Wedding Reports Draw No Information From Famed Actor

NEW YORK, Jan. 8. (AP)—Doug Fairbanks, Jr., is through acting and has "nothing to say" about his reported romance with Lady Sylvia Ashley of England. "I'm a producer from now on," the former "Don Juan" of the screen explained in announcing he will not act again.

Arriving last night from Europe on the Aquitania, Fairbanks was asked about his marital plans.

"I have nothing to say about that," he replied. The 52-year-old actor said he would spend the next six months producing a new motion picture in California and China.

He was as reticent concerning Mary Pickford as he was about Lady Ashley.

"I simply won't discuss my private affairs," he replied to a question whether he would see Miss Pickford when he goes to California Sunday. Her interlocutory decree of divorce against him becomes final Friday.

LONDON REPORTS COUPLE WILL MARRY
LONDON, Jan. 8. (AP)—London's fashionable Mayfair quarter reported today that Doug Fairbanks, Jr. would be married soon to Lady Ashley. Speculation revived with the Fairbanks-Pickford divorce decree to become final Friday, although his appearances with Lady Ashley, before he returned to the United States, caused little comment.

WANTS TO QUIT POST
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 8. (AP)—Frank Y. McLaughlin has asked Governor Merriam to relieve him of the State Relief administration duties, it was learned today, so he can devote his entire time to the Works Progress administration.

IT'S 'JUDGE' SWANNER NOW Lawyer Named To Hear Case

Charles D. Swanner, Santa Ana attorney, was elevated to the superior court bench today. He was appointed by Superior Judge James L. Allen to act as referee in the case of George P. Sheehan vs. Absopure Fruit Products, Inc. The court's order instructed "Judge" Swanner to try the case and pass on all of the law and evidence and report his findings to the court.

Referees not infrequently are appointed to act in similar capacities, but this is the first time in the memory of court attaches that a referee has conducted his case in the courtroom and presided on the bench. Ordinarily the hearings are conducted in the office of the attorney who has been appointed as referee. "Judge" Swanner conducted today's case in department two of the superior court.

Debate Bonus Tomorrow

BURKE FLAYS SUPERVISORS OVER RADIO

Recall Move Proposed; Accuses Leaders of Being Dictators

(For complete text of Mr. Burke's address, please turn to Page 9.)

"We fear fascism nationally, but we have fascism locally." In these words J. F. Burke, former newspaper editor, characterized the administration of the board of supervisors last night in an address over radio station KVOE (formerly KREG). His address was the first shot in a proposal to recall Supervisors W. C. Jerome, LeRoy Lyon and John Mitchell. Mr. Burke said last night he was sounding out public opinion on this question.

He accused the supervisors of being dictatorial, particularly in regard to the water program, of being controlled by a small group of politicians who, he said, have ruled the county for 25 years, and of keeping on the job a welfare director who is unsympathetic to the needs of those requiring relief.

Receives Many Calls
Immediately after his talk, Mr. Burke received a number of congratulatory telephone calls from all over the county. More were coming in today, he reported. Within two or three days it will be possible to get a complete enough reaction to determine whether the people wish a recall election, Mr. Burke said.

Mr. Burke said conditions have reached the point where the board seldom pays attention to the people's wishes, and never when these are in conflict with the little group which, he said, runs the county. Taxation, he said, has increased seven times faster than population, in the face of pleas for reduction.

Raps Purchasing Agent
In his judgment, said Mr. Burke, the county purchasing agent has rewarded those who are "faithful to the machine" and that these are easily allied against those who would place county buying with the lowest bidders.

Mr. Burke criticized the handling of the county advertising fund, 15 per cent of which, he said, goes to the secretary of a nearby chamber of commerce in the guise of an advertising commission. This secretary is county publicity director.

He scored the supervisors for not putting a cheaper, modified water program before the people, instead of holding two elections on the Elliott plan.

"No Democracy"
"Four of the supervisors, acting like Mussolini or Hitler, said, 'You will take this and like it,'" Mr. Burke said.

BRUNO'S DEATH DATE JAN. 17

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 8. (AP)—Gov. Harold G. Hoffman, it was disclosed today, is studying the transcript of the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, sentenced to die next week for the Lindbergh baby kidnapping.

The governor is a member of the New Jersey court of pardons which will convene Saturday to consider Hauptmann's plea for clemency.

His execution was reported to have been set for Friday, Jan. 17, at 8 p. m.

DRIVER TELLS OF KIDNAPING

GLENDAL, Jan. 8. (AP)—Leonard Smith, 22, San Bernardino taxicab operator, stumbled into the police station today and said he had been kidnapped by three men, beaten, and robbed of his cab.

Smith said the men got into his cab at midnight and asked to be driven to Redlands. His wild ride with them ended, he said, when he finally escaped in Glendale.

'Chain Ticket' Fad In County Draws $7000 in 10 Days

Orange county had a new chain ticket game in full operation today. Its headquarters are at La Habra in the Hilbert building, where already it is estimated that those in the game have paid in some $7000. The sport has spread rapidly in the past 10 days and players have come in from points as far removed as Santa Monica and Imperial Valley.

The new scheme is different from the chain letter craze which swept the country last spring in that it does not use the mails. Certificates bear the warning against use of the mails.

How It Works
A player first purchases two certificates at $1 each. These may be bought at headquarters, where six or eight girls are busy keeping track of the names and scores of players. Or they may be secured from someone who already is in the game. These first two tickets are then sold to another player. The $2 are returned to headquarters and the player's name is placed on a chain list.

His name is supposed to get to the top of the list as other certificates are sold. When it reaches the top he is supposed to collect $750.

The Journal learned from authoritative source that the chain game has been going for about 10 days and that E. M. Jackson, former automobile dealer, is taking a leading part in promoting it.

Differs From Others
The chain ticket game also differs in another manner from the system used last spring. Each certificate purchased entitles the buyer to attend a show that is given each night at the chain ticket headquarters.

The management gets a 25 per cent cut on all receipts. La Habra chain ticket game is patterned somewhat on the order of a game recently played at Maywood. There, however, the prize was a new automobile instead of money. Promoters of the game eventually were arrested, but the cases were dismissed.

High-Handed Scrapping of AAA by Court Bodes Evil For Other New Deal Laws

By RAYMOND CLAPPER
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The supreme court gave plain warning in its high-handed scrapping of AAA that other New Deal measures are to be mowed down as soon as it can get around to the grim business. That is, as soon as it can find the technical legal pretenses to support its political opinions. This leaves President Roosevelt free to do one of two things.

He can resign himself to the court's verdict as the final word of Divine inspiration. He can accept the court as the governing oligarchy of the country. He can yield to its political philosophy which would confine the federal government largely to running the army, the navy and municipal affairs in the District of Columbia.

Or he can accept the challenge as a political one, which it is, and go to the country to determine whether the people want to be governed by their elected president and their elected congress or by a lame-duck judicial dictatorship.

There is no use being dainty any longer in discussing the court. It can no longer claim the immunity from political discussion which a purely judicial body properly enjoys. Since it is vetoing acts of congress right and left it is no more immune from discussion than the President is immune when he vetoes an act of congress.

That this country, which pre-

FOUR HOURS ARGUMENT ALLOWED

House Votes Friday on Measure Backed by Three Vet Groups

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8. (AP)—House consideration tomorrow of a bill to buy control of an American arms plant before this country entered the World war was introduced today in the senate's investigation of war-time finance.

The invitation was contained in a cablegram from Morgan to the Morgan House in London. J. P. Morgan and Company then was purchasing agent in the United States for Great Britain and France.

The message
Dated Jan. 14, 1916, it said the Winchester Repeating Arms Company was in financial difficulties. "The point is, would the British government be interested in purchasing this stock or in making any suggestions regarding its purchase, or would they like to investigate the situation with the possible view of J. P. Morgan and Company interesting others in the purchase in which event they might have to become a party?" the message continued.

The reply, four days later, showed the British opposed to such procedure. Evidence that companies in which Morgan was interested sold the allies $363,000,000 worth of goods before his country entered the war was also introduced. Investigators also introduced financial transactions with the allied nations helped push America into the conflict.

A list submitted by the Morgan firm showed it arranged the purchase of great quantities of explosives and other war materials for France and England. Food, clothing and many other commodities also were bought.

Huge Commissions
Altogether, the company was the purchasing agent for approximately $3,000,000,000 of allied supplies. It received a commission of $300,000,000.

The committee held in reserve today evidence that Morgan's company supplied Great Britain with "inside information" on American governmental activity (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

BOURBONS TO RALLY HERE

Jackson Day Dinners at Santa Ana, Anaheim Tonight Draw 700

More than 700 Democrats from all parts of Orange county will assemble tonight in Santa Ana and Anaheim for Jackson Day dinners, annual affairs for the Democratic forces of the county.

The Santa Ana dinner, under the direction of the county council of Democratic clubs, will be held at the Green Cat cafe here at 6:30 o'clock, and is expected to attract nearly 300, advance reports indicate.

W. Maxwell Burke, Santa Ana attorney, will act as master of ceremonies, introducing John Anson Ford, Los Angeles county supervisor, who will be the principal speaker. A musical program is under the direction of Vladimir Lenuksi, violinist and teacher.

At Anaheim arrangements are being made to care for 400 guests at the dinner rally to be held at the Elks club, at 6 o'clock. Programs and arrangements for the affair are under the direction of Cal Ewing. This dinner is being sponsored by the Young Democrats club and the county Democratic central committee.

Munitions Investigators Quiz Financier on Pre-War Activities

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8. (AP)—Evidence that J. P. Morgan invited Great Britain to buy control of an American arms plant before this country entered the World war was introduced today in the senate's investigation of war-time finance.

FLOOD FOLLOWS FATAL STORM

LONDON, Jan. 8. (AP)—Floods and predictions of more rain, backwash of last week-end's storm, beset sections of Northern Europe today while the number of known dead mounted to 27.

Rising rivers threatened hundreds of cities and towns in France. The Loire, at Nantes, was at its highest level since 1910. Paris officials halted all barge traffic on the swollen Seine, where the flood waters attacked the wharves.

STRIKE HALTED WITH 5 DEAD
BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 8. (AP)—Buenos Aires' bus drivers, trade unions and several other workers' organizations decreed an end to their attempted general strike today after a day of violence in which at least five persons died.

Mounted police, riflemen, federal guards and foot policemen took control of all suburban strategic points during the 24-hour strike in sympathy with 20,000 stone masons who walked out three months ago, seeking higher wages.

STRIKE DARKENS 50 CTIES

Light, Power Employees Quit

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 8. (AP)—A midnight strike by Missouri Public Service company employees at three power plants left more than 50 western Missouri towns without lights or power today.

Telephones were silent, water systems and industrial machinery idle, dairies hurriedly sought milkers to replace machines, housewives hunted up candles and oil lamps and made toast on the stove.

At the Pleasant Hill plant, it simply was announced "labor trouble" had caused a shutdown. The area served by the Trenton plant was not affected as employees there refused to join in the strike and obtained power from Brookfield after the Pleasant Hill connection was closed.

FRANCE AND ENGLAND RUSH MORE WARSHIPS TO MEDITERRANEAN

SEND NEARLY 100 BOATS TO AREA

By the Associated Press
Sudden, large scale movements of the British and French battle fleets in the Mediterranean sea were announced from London and Paris today.

Coinciding with a disclosure that two French naval squadrons—92 warships in all—are going on a Mediterranean cruise, the British admiralty announced the withdrawal of four home fleet men-of-war now in the Southern sea.

But, start of their destination, Great Britain announced that four first-line battle-craft, now in home waters, will embark on a January cruise with the 21st destroyer flotilla.

A spokesman said the cruise regularly goes south to Spain and Portugal and generally meets the Mediterranean fleet at Gibraltar, where the two fleets join for maneuvers.

This year, however, it was stated, the Mediterranean fleet will not join the Atlantic maneuvers because of tension in the Mediterranean.

Fleet Strengthens
The British Mediterranean fleet concentration will in any event be augmented by nearly 100 French warships, ranging from battleships to submarines, by the time the League of Nations council meets Jan. 20 to consider further action in the Italo-Ethiopian situation.

Use Red Cross
An official Italian communiqué charged today that Ethiopian warriors had sought Red Cross protection from Italian airplanes.

In the region of Alamata, south of Lake Aswang, the communiqué said, "the Ethiopian warriors, as soon as they saw our airplanes, spread on the ground three great red crosses and gathered around them."

The Italian planes executed a bombardment near the lake, the communiqué added.

South of Makale, the announcement also stated, "our artillery defeated armed concentrations of Amba Adaram."

Ethiopia asked the League of Nations to step into Italy's policy of merciless extermination "as unofficial sources at Rome predicted Premier Mussolini may dispatch 100,000 more men into his African campaign."

Emperor Haile Selassie's government based its plea for a league commission of inquiry on alleged continued employment of poison gas by the invading Fascists.

SPEAKER FIXES CHURCH GOAL

Making the church the center of the social and political world of man as well as of his religious life, was the goal set by Dr. J. Russell Tuckermorton in a talk before the Orange county district Episcopal churches, last night in the First M. E. church.

"What I Expect of My Church" was the speaker's topic. He continued by detailing the church should be the leaders of men, should furnish inspiration and Christian education for children, should interpret the finer things of life and should place its men in posts of responsibility to the world.

R. R. Lutes, president of the district, officiated. Wray Andrews, Long Beach, president of the conference brotherhood, spoke briefly. Joe Head, president of the Santa Ana brotherhood, presided at the dinner meeting attended by a hundred men and women.

Methods of interesting men in church work were outlined by Dr. Tuckermorton at a round table discussion, exclusively for men, at 4:30 o'clock.

Gus Koehler led community singing and gave a solo. Methodist Episcopal men were

ORANGE OFFICER'S FACE RED Prisoner Escapes From Car

Constable George Bartly, Orange, is blushing today. Here's why:

Yesterday Constable Bartly and Deputy Sheriff James Workman went to Los Angeles, where they arrested William Bell at his place of business, 1821 Daley street, on suspicion of petty theft and burglary. A warrant had been issued for his arrest and turned over to Los Angeles police several days ago, but for some reason the Los Angeles officers had failed to make an arrest. Officers Bartly and Workman were sent to remedy the situation.

After the suspected burglar had been arrested, Deputy Workman asked the constable to drive him to the First and Spring streets police station to pick up the warrant. There weren't any parking places near the station, so Constable Bartly decided to drive around the block while waiting for the deputy to finish his errand. At First and Main streets the constable's car was tied up in a minor traffic jam. Mr. Bell, who was still in the car, took advantage of the opportunity and jumped out of the car. Before Constable Bartly could summon assistance from a nearby officer, the prisoner had disappeared in the crowd. He is still missing, but Los Angeles police and Deputy Workman are searching his old haunts hoping to pick him up again today.

TAKE ANAHEIM P. O. JOB BIDS

Applications for the position of postmaster at Anaheim will be received by the United States post office department until the close of business on Jan. 28, the Associated Press said today in a dispatch from Washington.

Two hats, those of Louie Hoskins and Howard Haines, are believed already to have been thrown in the ring for the job, although no formal announcements have been made.

The Democratic central committee, which last week recommended Sam Long for the Tustin postmastership, has made no recommendations for the Anaheim position.

TODD 'MURDER' QUIZ FALTERS

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8. (AP)—A grand jury inquiry into the death of Thelma Todd neared a fadout today after a will-o'-the-wisp pursuit of murder theories.

Reliable sources connected with the investigation reported two jurors had announced they were "fed up" with the proposed investigation.

Miss Todd, dead from carbon monoxide poisoning, was found in a garage Dec. 16.

FUNDS HERE FOR 11 WPA PROJECTS

Funds for 11 new Works Progress administration projects in Orange county, to be undertaken at a total cost of $131,056, were allocated Tuesday, it was announced by Manager Dan Mulhaddon.

The projects will give employment to 374 men and two women. Mr. Mulhaddon stated, and will be gotten under way immediately. Federal contributions total $99,556, with the remainder to be made up by local sponsors.

Orange Sewers
Install sewers in the City of Orange, cost $24,973; federal contribution $19,978, local contribution $4,995, to employ 53 men.

Install water mains on Brea road, Fullerton, total cost $52,993; federal funds $45,460, local $2,533, to employ 66 men.

Install water mains on Valencia drive, Fullerton, total cost $23,878; federal funds $16,321, local $7,557, to employ 64 men.

Storm Drain Here
Construct box storm drain on Seventh street, Santa Ana, total cost $18,563; federal funds $17,240, local $1,323, to employ 73 men.

Improve Washington school, La Habra, total cost $6,522; federal funds $4,680, local $1,842, to employ nine men.

Improve Lincoln school, La Habra, total cost $2,682; federal funds $1,951, local $701, to employ 24 men.

Lay cast-iron water mains in Anaheim, total cost $11,203; federal funds $8,845, local $4,358, to employ 24 men.

School Bus Entrance
Construct school bus entrance to San Juan Capistrano grammar school, total cost $3,643; federal $2,791, local $852, to employ 13 men.

Construct concrete pipe storm drain, Placentia, total cost $24,878; federal $19,774, sponsor $5,104, to employ 24 men.

Install sewer main and manholes in Santa Ana, total cost $4,441; federal $3,526, local $915, to employ 24 men.

San Clemente school food project, total cost $1,980; federal funds $960, local $1,020, to employ two women.

MORE ABOUT BURKE

Burke said, "If there was ever anything else clear, it is that the supervisors and the oligarchy controlling them do not know the real meaning of democracy, and there must be a change if we are to have any water program."

The cost of a recall election, said the speaker, would be more than made up by the economy of a new administration.

"They have appropriated with a lavish hand or everything but the money," Mr. Burke said, in speaking of the county welfare department, he referred to "ruthless treatment of clients" and "cruel and inhuman oppression." He said Orange county is charted as one of the lowest in the state when it comes to relief for the needy.

Jerome Answers
In speaking about objections to a recall, Mr. Burke called attention to the difficulty of getting good candidates to run against the incumbents. He said that ordinarily he does not favor the recall except where there is a dire emergency or funds have been misappropriated, and that has not happened here. But, he said, the lavish expenditures go on.

Asked to comment on Mr. Burke's talk, Supervisor W. C. Jerome said today, "I never have engaged in a campaign of muck raking or personalities and I have no desire to do so now. I think Mr. Burke was suffering from a severe case of wind colic. I hope he got most of it off his stomach. And I again reiterate that his insinuations were just as false as usual."

Curry Has No Comment
"One of the wise men of old made a true statement when he said that a man's suspicions are but the shadow of his own soul," Byron Curry, director of the county welfare department, declined to make any comment on Mr. Burke's statements about his administration.

V. D. Johnson, secretary of the Orange chamber of commerce, and county publicity director, who was referred to by Mr. Burke in his criticism of county advertising expenditures, said today that "I didn't hear his talk. I was too busy trying to get $350 on bank night at the theater to listen to what he had to say."

Slabaugh Silent
Dr. F. W. Slabaugh, county purchasing agent, who also came in for criticism, declined to comment on Mr. Burke's speech.

Supervisor Lyon and Supervisor Mitchell could not be reached today for statements. Yesterday, however, Mr. Mitchell said he had heard no talk of the recall in his district and that until definite charges are made, he does not see that there is any statement to be made.

Lyon's Attitude
Supervisor Lyon yesterday said that "It seems the proposed recall is based on the fact that we didn't accept the suggested modified plan for water conservation and flood control. However, we employed the best engineers, men of international reputation, and it would only be natural to follow their advice, particularly when army engineers, after making a detailed and careful study, and after being represented on the ground, felt that the program we proposed was an outstanding, safe and satisfactory plan."

"It seems so obvious to me that the logical procedure would be to follow their expert advice, that I can't see the object of pushing aside such a battery of authority in an attempt to develop a substitute project."

CLOSING LAW ON LIQUOR ORDERED

Orange county cafes, bars and roadhouses which have been selling liquor after 2 a. m. in the future will be closed promptly on the hour, a decision by the state board of equalization stated today.

The board's decision declared the sale of liquor between 2 a. m. and 6 a. m. to be contrary to public morals and in violation of the alcoholic beverage control act. The ruling will become effective at once.

The Orange county division of the board of equalization, headed by Fred Sidebottom, will be required to report on proprietors of all establishments remaining open after 2 o'clock. Licenses of violators of the rule will be subject to revocation.

The 2 a. m. closing hour was held invalid by a Los Angeles court last month, and no strict enforcement of the ruling had been made pending yesterday's decision of the state board.

I was too busy trying to get $350 on bank night at the theater to listen to what he had to say."

Slabaugh Silent
Dr. F. W. Slabaugh, county purchasing agent, who also came in for criticism, declined to comment on Mr. Burke's speech.

Supervisor Lyon and Supervisor Mitchell could not be reached today for statements. Yesterday, however, Mr. Mitchell said he had heard no talk of the recall in his district and that until definite charges are made, he does not see that there is any statement to be made.

Lyon's Attitude
Supervisor Lyon yesterday said that "It seems the proposed recall is based on the fact that we didn't accept the suggested modified plan for water conservation and flood control. However, we employed the best engineers, men of international reputation, and it would only be natural to follow their advice, particularly when army engineers, after making a detailed and careful study, and after being represented on the ground, felt that the program we proposed was an outstanding, safe and satisfactory plan."

"It seems so obvious to me that the logical procedure would be to follow their expert advice, that I can't see the object of pushing aside such a battery of authority in an attempt to develop a substitute project."

RESCIND SARDINE ACTION

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 8. (AP)—The state fish and game commission yesterday rescinded its action of Dec. 28 which granted canners permission to take 50,000 tons of sardines for two months above the 300,000-ton annual limit previously permitted.

DIONNE QUINTUPLETS RICH Girls Worth $24,000 Each

CALLANDER, Ont., Jan. 8. (AP)—Each of the Dionne quintuplets now is worth $24,000 in her own right.

Between them they have $120,000 in government bonds. The money has been accumulated since the Ontario government took charge of their affairs a year ago.

The sisters now are 19 months of age. If they live to be 3 years of age they will have about $300,000 under present contracts.

Then, officials explained, the interest from the trust fund alone will support them.

About $35,000 has been spent for the quintuplets in the past year, including approximately $1000 monthly in operating costs at their model hospital home.

The babies' fortune is being built up by income from motion-picture contracts and from royalties on postcards, calendars, coats, bonnets and dolls.

WILL RUSH BILL ON NEUTRALITY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8. (AP)—The senate foreign relations committee decided today to expedite consideration of the administration neutrality bill without public hearings.

Chairman Pittman (D., Nev.), announced after the meeting there had been a general discussion of both the administration bill and the slightly more drastic Nye-Clark measure and that Secretary Hull would appear Friday to give his views.

MORE ABOUT AAA

suggested and from these to prepare the best measure possible to accomplish the desired end.

Hope for Best
There was no outward hint of Mr. Roosevelt's own plan about farm relief. Over a period of time, however, there was evidence administration leaders hope the nation will reject the constitutional views of the court's majority and eventually follow the course upheld by the minority.

This became increasingly clear today as Roosevelt administration officials from the White House down emphasized again and again that the justices handed down two opinions in the case that wrecked AAA. Already Secretary Wallace, author of the phrase "America must choose," has appealed to every family in the country to study both opinions.

Condemnation Heard
Condemnation of the majority decision continued to be heard from some Democrats in congress. Senator Black (D., Ala.), said the court has "thrown away the charts" and after conferring extra power on the federal government by law interpretation, immediately "appropriated it for itself."

Black declined to say what steps he would take to remedy the situation, but emphasized:

"Heretofore it has been the proud boast of the people of this country that it is ruled by laws, not by men. This decision makes it a country not ruled by laws but by men—five being enough to rule 120,000,000."

Roosevelt Silent
Whether the New Deal strategy would involve an active drive for a constitutional amendment remained undetermined. President Roosevelt was silent on this and most other AAA questions at his press conference last night.

His only decision, he disclosed, is to ask congress to provide funds to pay farmers for performance under existing crop reduction contracts. AAA owes some $283,000,000 on these contracts.

All members of the administration, he said, are studying the two decisions, or opinions, of the court. Six judges outlawed, as an invasion of states' rights, the AAA program under which taxes were levied on processors to pay farmers for curbing production. Three judges, upholding AAA, said congress could tax and spend to relieve "a nation-wide economic maladjustment."

Eagerly, New Dealers watched the reaction in the farm areas. They found it mixed. For example, Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, said the decision would plunge agriculture into "ruinous conditions" unless a quick remedy were found. Charles W. Burkett, vice president of the Farmers Independence Council, hailed the decision as a blow to "bureaucracy and regimentation."

Further expressions of opinion are awaited at a meeting of 70 farm leaders, to convene here Friday.

The entire AAA remains paralyzed. First definite indications of disintegration of its personnel machine came today in guarded hints from some officials that 1000 to 1500 of AAA's 6500 employees may be dropped soon.

The whole AAA staff is working without pay because the treasury stopped AAA checks Monday night.

MARKET AGREEMENTS SAFE, SAYS OFFICIAL

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8. (AP)—Marketing agreements such as the citrus and walnut pacts in effect in California are valid despite the adverse AAA decision of the supreme court, the AAA office here was informed today.

STUDY IRVINE WATER SUIT

Further attempts to settle the question of spreading operations on the upper Santa Ana river were to be made late today at the monthly meeting of the Orange county water district board of directors.

Reports of the progress and state of operations in the upper river reaches were to be made by Paul Bailey, consulting engineer for the water district.

The board also was to consider whether or not it will join in the litigation started by James Irvine, rancher, against several water companies in Riverside and San Bernardino counties, in an effort to halt the spreading operations.

At one time it was felt the county district would take over the fight on behalf of the Irvine interests. More lately a series of conferences between interested parties in the upper counties and Mr. Irvine have given rise to a thought that the suit might be agreeably settled out of court, to the mutual advantage of both interests.

Riverside county interests and Mr. Irvine met last week; on Monday representatives of major companies in the Lytle creek area, where large spreading operations are in progress, met with Mr. Irvine, and it is expected that a third conference with representatives from San Bernardino county will be held soon.

Orange county interests, through the Irvine litigation, are striving to obtain what they deem a fair share of water from the upper river, which they assert is now being diverted by the Riverside and San Bernardino county spreading works.

FORGER SUSPECT IN JAIL HERE

Lupe Arroyo, 21, Westminster, was held in the county jail today under $1000 bond after his arrest yesterday by Deputy Sheriff James Musick on charges of forgery.

Arroyo was arraigned in the Huntington Beach justice court today, and his preliminary hearing was set for Jan. 14 at 10 a. m.

According to a report filed by Deputy Musick, Arroyo, in company with a 17-year-old boy, allegedly conspired to forge three checks, totaling $18, and using the name of John Leal, Westminster rancher. The boy allegedly involved in the forgery can write only his own name, which appeared on the checks as the payee. At present he is in the county jail charged with drunk driving.

Charges of forgery also were filed against him by the district attorney today and he was remanded to the juvenile court.

representative in charge of the California-Arizona citrus marketing agreement, said he had received the following telegram from P. R. Taylor, head of the general crops section of the department of agriculture in Washington: "The decision relates only to production control program and does not apply to marketing agreements or orders which were not before the court."

CITY HOST TO BARNEY OLDFIELD, FAMOUS RACE DRIVER

Barney Oldfield was in Santa Ana yesterday, and city officials turned out to greet him. The famous old-time automobile race driver is on a tour of the nation in the interest of safety on the highways. The above picture was snapped as he was welcomed by officials at the city hall. Left to right they are: Chief of Police Floyd Howard, Henry A. Baldwin, local Plymouth and DeSoto dealer, Traffic Officer B. A. Hershey, Mr. Oldfield, Mayor Fred C. Rowland, Traffic Officer George Boyd, and Otto Haan, Chrysler and Plymouth dealer.

VISIT SITE OF OLD ADOBE SEPULVEDA House Famous Pensionites WILL ELECT

Memories of old Spanish days in Santa Ana were stirred yesterday when Mrs. George Vander Leck of San Juan Capistrano and T. E. Stephenson visited the site of the old Don Jose Sepulveda adobe west of this city. Mrs. Vander Leck is a granddaughter of Don Jose Sepulveda.

The house was built about 1850, but was torn down in the 70's by Mort Hubbard of Tustin. Sheriff Barton of Los Angeles county stopped there in 1867 while on his way to capture the outlaw, Juan Flores. Barton and several of his men were killed in a battle with the Flores gang. The officers had stacked their guns near the door of the Sepulveda adobe, and it was thought that some ally of Flores took the ammunition out of the weapons.

On the old Sepulveda property was a large, "bottomless" spring, and the story has been told that in the early days a team of horses ran away, fell into the spring, with the wagon they were pulling, and never were seen again.

SHAPES RECALL VOTE FORMS

County Clerk J. M. Backs today was preparing ballot forms for the recall election to be staged in the Anaheim township Feb. 7. He started the work following qualification of Alva Hargrove as a candidate against Justice of the Peace Charles Kuchel.

Petitions have been filed seeking the latter's recall on grounds of asserted incompetency. Mr. Hargrove helped to circulate the petitions.

LIQUOR LICENSE DENIED BY BOARD TO EL MODENA MAN

Leno Coda of El Modena was one of 89 applicants for 1936 liquor permits whose requests were turned down late yesterday by the state board of equalization, according to the Associated Press. Denials to applicants were based on various reasons such as non-citizenship, contrary to public morals, police complaints, failure of premises to comply with legal restrictions, question as to true owner, previous violations, proximity to schools and employment of aliens as managers.

DOCTOR WRITES FOR MAGAZINE

An outstanding distinction had come today to Dr. J. L. Maroon of this city, with the publication of an article by him in Hospital Progress, the official journal of the Catholic Hospital association. The magazine has international circulation. Dr. Maroon's article occupies the leading position and covers three pages.

Dr. Maroon himself is a former president of the Orange County Medical association and is now chief of the medical staff at St. Joseph's hospital.

The article is entitled "The Doctor's Debt to the Hospital," and outlines the wide variety of services, the care and efficiency and equipment which are available to the doctor free at the hospital. The friendly atmosphere and the spirit of self sacrifice at a hospital are stressed, as well as the reaction of the patient to discipline and optimism displayed within its walls.

"The hospital is much more than an inviolable curative ally of the doctor," says the article. "It is the continual exemplification of the principles of health. There is no better school in which any person can learn to live well."

LOCAL POLICE ACTIVITY IS INCREASED

The annual report of the Santa Ana police department for 1935, compiled by Sergeant J. F. McWilliams, disclosed today that there was a noticeable increase in every line of work handled through the department over 1934. More arrests were made, more calls answered, more traffic accidents reported, more persons injured, more property stolen and recovered, and more bicycles stolen and recovered in 1935 than in 1934.

In 1935 there were 4593 arrests made, and 5236 calls answered, with 3109 by radio. There were 80 automobiles stolen and 80 recovered, and five stolen cars recovered for other cities. There were 147 bicycles stolen and 73 recovered. Stolen property was valued at $41,829. Property recovered was valued at $25,985, and $2390 worth of property was recovered for other cities.

170 Traffic Accidents
In 1935 there were 170 traffic accidents here resulting in injury to 235 persons and death to four. In 1934, there were 143 traffic accidents resulting in injury to 202, and death to six. The only decrease shown in the 1935 report was in the number of fatalities from traffic accidents.

The list of arrests made during 1935 and the charges follow: Arson, 3; assault, 36; assault with deadly weapon, 3; assault to kill, 1; arrested for other cities, 20; battery, 11; burglary, 24; bench warrants, 41; concealed weapons, 4; fictitious checks, 7; violation city license ordinance, 5; contributing to delinquency of minors, 1; criminal conspiracy, 6; criminal syndicalism, 1; cruelty to animals, 1; cruelty to children, 1.

According to the annual report of 1934, there were 3203 arrests made and 4479 calls answered with 2275 being answered by radio cars; 90 automobiles stolen and 86 recovered; six cars recovered for other cities; 97 bicycles stolen and 59 recovered; $36,072 worth of property stolen and $23,946 worth recovered, with $2612 worth of stolen property recovered for other cities.

FHA THANKS BOARD FOR WPA PROJECT ON INFORMATION

The Federal Housing administration yesterday express appreciation to the board of supervisors for its recent action in approving a Works Progress administration project to establish housing information offices in Orange county.

A letter signed by W. G. Bingham, associate director of the FHA at Los Angeles, said: "Your approval of the item for sponsor's contribution indicates that you are acquainted with the fact that this project will be of considerable benefit to the citizens of your county, and you are to be congratulated on this type of leadership."

The housing offices will distribute information on how to secure loans for modernization of buildings or construction of new ones.

SEEK ENLARGEMENT COUNTY HIGHWAY PATROL STAFF

There has been no increase in the Orange county highway patrol staff since repeal of the eighth amendment, Chairman John Mitchell told the board of supervisors yesterday. His statement was made after Louis E. Rogers of this city filed a written application for a position as a highway patrol officer.

Mr. Mitchell said he had written to E. Raymond Cato, chief of the state highway patrol, urging that more officers be employed for Orange county, because of increased traffic hazards.

HEWITT CASE MAY GET TO GRAND JURY

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8. (AP) Probability of grand jury investigation, announcement of an asserted threat against a potential witness and counter accusations of conspiracy dashed through Ann Cooper Hewitt's $500,000 sterilization damage suit today.

District Attorney Matthew Brady said the 21-year-old heiress' complaint that her mother, the wealthy Mrs. Maryon Hewitt McCarter, conspired the sterilization operation "in all probability" would be presented to the grand jury.

Russell P. Tyler, attorney for Miss Hewitt, said Miss Grace Wilkins, a nurse who attended the operation, which the girl said was performed so Mrs. McCarter might enhance her chances of inheriting $10,000,000 reportedly left by the late Peter Cooper Hewitt, had received a letter cautioning her to "say nothing" about the case.

The district attorney's announcement said police and his office were probing "all phases" of the operation to ascertain if criminal laws were violated.

PLACENTIA C. OF C. ERS "worked over" the proposed new by-laws for the associated chambers of commerce at their meeting yesterday.

They discussed changes at length, and finally decided that the principal thing wrong was that the Press isn't allowed a voice in voting, as heretofore. In the old by-laws, lost long ago, each publisher was allowed one vote, they contended, and that voice would be missing in future ballots, according to the proposed changes.

We're looking for an interesting session when the associated meets in Fullerton Jan. 28. The Placentians have never hesitated to arise and proclaim their ideas or objections with much gusto. They'll do it this time, if they have any, we can all be assured. Expect there'll be a good attendance.

Dropped in on the Sarchet family at the Brea Progress yesterday. Corb Sarchet offered the glad hand, and we discussed this and that, until Doc Curtis, local medic, dropped in. Then we discussed the Rose Bowl football game, which Doc almost didn't attend.

After he'd left we looked around through Corb's paper until we discovered that the medico was on the receiving end of a lovely gift recently—a nicely furnished dog house, which was delivered by a couple of U. S. deputy marshals. One'd think that perhaps that's a story worth investigating. We'll see what we can find out.

Jack Phillips, former publisher in Brea, is now situated in Pasadena—in the newspaper business, we heard. Lots of county newspapermen have been wishing him lots of luck.

Judge Halsey Spence, Fullerton's jurist, and Walter Skillman, the constable, received an official call from the press, after the Brea visit. Both were very busy. The judge was reading Sidney Skidmore's column, and Skidly was sitting there waiting for his turn at it.

They reported very little crime in Fullerton township, and not much excitement of any kind. Lots of plans are being made for social functions, they said, but nothing more than routine. They're keeping their respective departments busy.

Want to feel like spring's arrived? If you do, drive through Orange, and on the south side of Chapman avenue, about four blocks east of the business district is a peach or apricot, or prune tree, filled with nice pink blossoms. It must be several months ahead of the regular blooming time for such trees.

Couldn't tell what sort of tree it was, not being a specialist in such things, but it looked fine, anyway.

San Juan Capistrano gained national attention yesterday when the annual arrival of the swallows in March and their departure in October was pictured in a "Believe It Or Not" article.

When we first heard that the swallows arrived on March 3, Joseph's day, and stayed around the mission until Oct. 23, which is San Juan's day, we were skeptical, but the reports were confirmed this year by our correspondent. And, Ramon Yorba should know—he's been watching the annual arrival and departure for the past 69 years, according to reports. He should know, by now, shouldn't he?

While on the subject of Capistrano, it might be well to tell of the visitors in town yesterday and their entertainment.

A caravan of cars stopped at the mission. The cars were unusual, but when residents discovered that the cars contained three score Japanese sailors from the Japanese warship "Onda," anchored off Long Beach, that was news.

Sparing nothing to welcome and entertain visitors, the Capistrano residents staged a runaway—or, at least, there was a runaway, with horses 'n everything, just like the good old days.

An employe on the Pete Oharzabel ranch was driving down the main street, we're told, and when his nags sighted the crowd, they bolted. The horses galloped down the street and were apparently headed for home and the barn when a race broke near the bridge, when a half-mile south of town. Wagon and occupant landed in the dry river bed, both uninjured, although the driver was reported somewhat embarrassed.

Witnesses were reported to have enjoyed the spectacle.

TWO OFFICES VACANT ON APRIL 14

Mrs. Beckwith Rumored Preparing to Place Name on Ballot

LAGUNA BEACH.—Although municipal elections are not scheduled until April 14, political rumors are rampant in Laguna that Zofia M. Beckwith will run for a seat on the city council.

The term of office for Mayor Frank Champion and Councilman Wilson ends in April, and although Mrs. Beckwith was unwilling to make a public statement at this time, it is the opinion of many that her name will appear on the ballot.

At no time in the past political history of Laguna has a woman run for a seat on the city council and Mrs. Beckwith, who is active in civic and club affairs in the community, will establish a new precedent in case she decides to run for office.

HOME COMING IS CHURCH PLAN

WINTERSBURG.—The monthly business meeting of the Wintersburg Methodist church was held Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Letson.

TONIGHT'S PROGRAMS
By HOMER CANFIELD

FOLLOWING on the heels of the AAA supreme court decision, President Roosevelt formally launches the 1936 Democratic campaign at the Jackson day dinner in Washington tonight. Both networks (KFI, KJL, J) will carry his words, about which there is much speculation. However, no specific subject has been announced.

The president's broadcast cancels John Charles Thomas, and moves "Calling All Cars" to Friday night at the same hour.

SUCCESSFUL ALUMNI of Fred Allen's amateur show will join the nasal-toned comedian (KFI, 9) to help celebrate the program's first anniversary.

Brooks Bowman, Fred's find of the year, a Princeton senior who wrote the national popular "Love And A Dime" and "East of the Sun," will headline.

SAYS FRED ALLEN—"If I were writing publicity on Fred Allen I'd give editors an eye-ful. Why not give him a little publicity? For example, I never go anywhere without a flashlight. If I walked into a night club, they would draft me into the floor show as Rip Van Winkle."

Column Left

Whatever else arises out of the managerial turmoil (see col. 8) involving Santa Ana's Stars, none of us should lose sight of the fact that Tom Denney is stepping out with good grace and not a few handicaps.

Tom came in and ably filled the breach when Bill Cole gave up the job in mid-season. Against improved opposition Tom soon hit his stride and did right well in the dual role of player and manager. The valiant stand of the Stars against the Oilers in the playoffs should be written in capital letters for the record books. He put himself on the spot for the sake of the team and now takes himself off, willingly.

None the worse off for his experience, and certainly a valuable asset to the team, Denney will be back in uniform when spring training starts. If he doesn't win a hatful of honors in left field we'll be surprised.

Virtue is its own reward—except in college football. This is the nauseating aftermath of the Ted Key bull-up at U. C. L. A. Read: "Ted Key—the same Ted" of U. C. L. A. fame—is again playing football, but now it is for Victor McLaglen's Lighthorse professionals, captained by "Cotton" Warburton. More than that, he has a role in McLaglen's new picture, it was announced yesterday.

McLaglen himself obtained Key the spot in the movie and the football team on which he will probably do a good share of the kicking.

Until that item appeared in Los Angeles papers this morning we thought Vic McLaglen was busy trying to do something really nice for athletics.

Here's a "tip" that you can have gratis. No guarantee goes with it and it is not original. Neither do we believe that it is foolproof—or even mildly satisfactory. But one guy who follows the hayburners feverishly, has developed a "numerology" system in picking the nags.

On New Year's day, he points out five horses carrying No. 1 came under the wire first. On Jan. 6, three No. 6's won first money. (We just took a look and yesterday's running saw only two No. 7's in the money.)

Since we are speaking of "systems," we like that of the Iowa tourists who pick winners with uncanny accuracy. The middle aged ladies who bet their stack on a horse that looks like their Uncle Mike, or because of "cute" names.

Short stuff: Joe Cronin is biting his nails trying to figure out a lineup for his remodeled Sox. . . . With Eric McNair on deck at third, Cronin will play short again. . . . That leaves the fleet Bill Werber as the problem. . . . Cronin may convert Werber into an outfielder, but that will leave a surplus. With Roger Cramer and Heinie Manush, sure of the center and left field jobs, Werber would have to battle it out for the right field patrol with Skinny Graham, Mel Almada and Dusty Cooke. . . . All five regular outfielders are left-hand hitters, which may be in right-hander Werber's favor.

NEW YORK.—Two versions of the same story: 1—As Bill O'Brien, the pro tennis promoter's, publicity department saw it: "Lester Stoen, the California tennis pro, received the official okay on his ring aspirations yesterday. The blond giant went through his paces for Jack Dempsey. The former heavyweight king was impressed and said that the young giant should at least have a chance to succeed in the prize ring."

SANTA ANA STARS WITHOUT MANAGER

PREP CAGERS READY FOR CHAMPS

Saint Varsity Extended By Fullerton; Little Saints Edged Out

By PAUL WRIGHT
Flashes of unquestionable class that may carry them to an upset over Long Beach were shown by Reece (Pinky) Greene's casaba handlers, as Santa Ana High school struggled to gain a 26-23 decision from Fullerton in non-league basketball here yesterday.

The Coast Prep league champs from Long Beach, winners of nine out of 11 warm-up games, will be given a good run for their money here Friday night if the Saint varsity plays the kind of ball it did in the first and last quarters against Fullerton.

Saints Inconsistent
Long Beach, however, can prepare for a free-scoring walk-away if Santa Ana's play is a repetition of its performance in the middle periods. The Saints were too inconsistent yesterday.

Off to a nine-point lead while Fullerton fans sat open-mouthed, Santa Ana saw Glen Lewis' Indians retaliate with a wild assault on the ring in the second quarter, and the Saints' substantial lead rapidly dwindled to 13-11 at half-time. They gained a couple of points in the third session, 17-13.

Three "prayer" shots from mid-court were answered for Fullerton in the final and most heated quarter, slightly dominated by the Indians, 30-9. Santa Ana kept in front, 17-15, 19-15, 20-15, 20-17, 22-17 and 22-19. Percy Fullerton, guard, ruffled the mesh from mid-court, and it was anybody's ball game, 22-21. But Ed Eastham, center, made good a charity toss, and then received a long pass for a shot under the basket. Forward Erwin Yonel was fouled, and cashed in on the throw, sewing up the game, 26-21. Ed Miller, Fullerton captain, got off a long one that sailed through the hoop before the gun sounded on another Saint victory, their sixth in seven trials.

Milligan Does Well
Bill (Big Boy) Milligan, forward, contributed generously with some neat side shots, rolling up 10 points. Eastham, whose defense was exceptional, was second with nine points, despite an inability to make his side shots count. Sam Lockhart and Bill Flood, guards, and Erwin Yonel, forwards, were prominent on the Saints all the way.

LITTLE SAINTS ARE BEATEN, 21-23
Santa Ana High school's "Little Saints," who opened their Coast league season with Long Beach Poly's Bunnies here Friday night, were beaten by Fullerton's Pa-pooses, 23-21, in the preliminary to yesterday's Saint-Indian conflict here.

Gabriel Mercado, sophomore who Coach Cook believes will develop into a regular deadeye, and Pete Partida scored nine and eight points, respectively, at forward. Elson Gaeb, much taller than last year, looked impressive at center despite his failure to make three crucial foul shots. The guarding was good most of the game. Forward Johnson started for Fullerton with 15 points.

CONQUEROR OF ALLISON IN MIAMI NET TOURNEY

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Jan. 8. (AP)—A match between two unheralded players who knocked off a brace of seeded favorites held the gallery's attention today as 16 netmen fought for quarter-final berths in the Miami Biltmore tennis tournament.

Weston Painter, Minneapolis, who eliminated Marcel Rainville, Canadian amateur champion and top-seeded foreign entry, 6-4, 6-2, was booked to meet another Canadian, Jack Reitman, Montreal, who disposed of Carroll Turner, Miami, seeded No. 7, 6-3, 1-6, 6-2.

The chief remaining foreign threat, Ricardo Morales, Cuban national champion who bested Mose Mondul, Miami, faced stiff competition in Gardner Mulloy, Miami, seeded No. 6.

Bryan M. (Betsy) Grant, Atlanta, 1935 winner, faced Carlton Schafer, Philadelphia; Arthur Hendrix, Lakeland, Fla., conqueror of Wilmer Allison, national champion, met Jack Behr, New York; J. Gilbert Hall, South Orange, N. J., seeded No. 2 behind Grant, came up against 17-year-old Enrique Conil, Havana, Hal Surface, Jr., Kansas City, met Russell Bobbitt, Atlanta.

By BOB CAVAGNARO
NEW YORK, Jan. 7. (AP)—Insofar as the 17 sports over which the Amateur Athletic Union has jurisdiction are concerned, marked progress has been shown during the year just closed and, with the Olympic games as a stimulus, there is every reason to believe that 1936 will witness a still greater advancement in these sports. This should be particularly evident in track and field, swimming, boxing, wrestling, lifting, gymnastics and basketball, the A. A. U. sports on the summer Olympic program.

Track Season Good
The indoor track season will have all of the major meets that have produced such thrilling and record breaking competition in the past. And in addition Chicago, Philadelphia and San Francisco expect to announce soon definite plans for indoor track meets. Boston will be the scene of the first of the major indoor meets Jan. 25.

Invitations were extended by the A. A. U. to a dozen outstanding foreign champions to compete here this winter, but they have declined. Using the past as a criterion, however, it is safe to say their absence will not mar the indoor season.

Our defeat in swimming at the hands of the Japanese at the Los Angeles Olympics four years ago has had the effect of thoroughly arousing the swimmers of the United States, swimming coaches and officials.

LEADING NAGS ENTERED AT ARCADIA

SANTA ANITA RACE TRACK, Jan. 8.—Twenty-five horses, among them some of the classiest 3-year-olds now stabled at Santa Anita, have been nominated for the San Pasqual stakes, Racing Secretary Webb Everett announced today. Nominations closed yesterday.

Many of the entries are eligible for the $25,000 Santa Anita Derby to be run on Feb. 15. The San Pasqual, a $2500 event, will be run Saturday.

APPOINTMENT OF LACKAYE HELD UP

Official Announcement Not Yet Made by Commissioners

Officially—and in direct contradiction of a published mis-statement (not carried by The Journal) yesterday—Santa Ana's Stars were without a manager today.

Tom Denney, star leftfielder of this city's National League night ball team, resigned as manager yesterday, and no sooner did the news break than rumors flew thicker than the errors in another local paper's report of the incident.

Something Is Wrong
" . . . Within 10 minutes George Lackaye had been appointed to replace him . . . the announcement was made by Commissioner H. C. Snow after a hurried conference with other members of the Stars, board: Otto Jacobs, John Wilcox and Jim Detrixhe . . . " so read the other paper's premature statement. The Journal said Lackaye "probably would be appointed."

Now take the official viewpoint: Said Commissioner Snow today: "Lackaye has not been officially appointed. No meeting of the commission has been held since Denney's resignation. I was surprised when I saw the story."

Said Commissioner Detrixhe today: "We have not yet appointed Lackaye. We did not have a meeting yesterday."

Now it is no secret that Lackaye, for the past two seasons the respected pilot of the Westminster Aviators, probably will get the job. He is a no-odds-on choice, but so far as any official announcement of his selection is concerned, nothing can be said except that he just hasn't been appointed yet. An official announcement is expected soon.

There is a chance the above fallacy may "quer" the deal.

Good Reasons
Reason Santa Ana commissioners are not ready for an announcement is a simple and fine one. Their motives are of the highest nature and should be respected by all who have the best interests of National nightball at heart. The Journal believes.

If Lackaye joins the Stars it will mean he must give up his Westminster position. Santa Ana would, in effect, be hiring him away from one of their contemporaries. So, in the interests of fair play and good sportsmanship, they wanted the "deal" to go through the proper channels. They wanted to tell Francis Penhall, who holds the Westminster franchise, before the facts were crammed down his throat by any premature statement.

Hopeful of squaring things now that the trouble some and unfortunately is out of the bag, Commissioners Otto Jacobs and John Wilcox went to Westminster today to confer with Owner Penhall. Upon their return an announcement is expected from the local commission.

Have you heard the latest?

There's going to be a beauty contest, and what's more, it probably will be on the level because Orange county peace officers are staging it. According to an announcement made today by Sheriff Logan Jackson, president of the Orange County Peace Officers' association, the contest will be held in connection with the annual Orange County Peace Officers' benefit ball in the Valencia ballroom Jan. 25.

Sheriff Jackson said all entrants in the contest must register prior to the night of the benefit ball. Offices have been established at 112 East Fourth street, and Leo V. Newman, who has offered his time to the association to help put the affair over, will be in the offices every afternoon to register contestants.

Incidentally, there is going to be a dancing contest in connection with the ball. Prizes will be awarded to the winners of both contests, and the grand champion of the beauty contest will be awarded a silver trophy. Mr. Newman announced that a group of Hollywood celebrities will be brought here to act as judges in the contest.

Those who attend the benefit ball will dance to the music of Ray Harbeck and his 12 Musical Notes. Tickets are one dollar a couple and may be purchased from members of the association or through the contest registration office, 112 East Fourth street.

POLICE REPORTS

Ted Cook, 1717 West Eighth street, Santa Ana, reported to police last night that two boys were attempting to steal gasoline from a car parked in front of his home. The car is owned by Dwight Miller. The boys were gone when officers arrived.

E. C. Bloss, 2121 North Main street, reported at 1:57 a. m. today that a dog had been run over near his home and was lying in the street howling. The poundmaster was notified.

Walter Wright, West Sixth street, Santa Ana, reported that his car had been involved in a collision with another machine. The accident occurred at First street and Orange avenue early today. No one was injured, and he failed to obtain the name of the driver of the other car.

Townsend Club

Townsend club No. 3 will meet tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock at 509 West Fourth street.

Townsend club No. 11 will hold a pot-luck supper at 6 o'clock in the Franklin school building, 1512 West Fourth street, Santa Ana, tomorrow night. A business meeting will follow. Entertainment will be furnished by the Lyric String Trio of Miss Audra Granas, violin; Miss Anna Mae Archer, cello, and Miss Beatrice Granas, piano.

ROOSEVELT WILL OPEN CAMPAIGN FOR RE-ELECTION TONIGHT

F. D. R. SPEAKS
AT JACKSON
DAY DINNERTalk Will Be Broadcast
To Nation; Committee
Meets Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8. (AP)—Democratic party leaders converged on Washington from all over the country today to help President Roosevelt formally launch his campaign for re-election tonight at the national Jackson Day dinner.

As he addresses similar gatherings from Coast to Coast from the banquet table here at 10 p. m. (7 p. m., Santa Ana time), the President will be surrounded by his cabinet, most Democratic members of the senate and house, members of the national committee and other prominent party officials.

The Absentees
But almost as conspicuous as the list of guests will be the names of absentees. Alfred E. Smith, once the Democratic presidential candidate, will not be there. Probably John W. Davis, another time party nominee, will not. Missing will be other names that have figured prominently at former Jackson Day dinners.

Smith and Davis are members of the American Liberty League which reiterated its charge today that Democratic Chairman James A. Farley, in selling tickets to the dinner to federal office holders, violated the law.

In a statement, the league characterized as a "bedtime story" the assertion of the Democratic national committee that Farley had nothing to do with soliciting campaign funds by sale of tickets.

Meeting Tomorrow
The dinner tonight will be followed tomorrow by a meeting of the national committee to select the time and place for the national convention. Philadelphia and Chicago are the leading contestants, but there were reports of other bids from Atlantic City or San Francisco.

More than 1600 tickets for the dinner here have been sold at $50 each. Democratic officials said more than 250,000 Democrats would attend the 2000 dinners being held elsewhere at costs ranging down to $1 a plate.

VESTRY ELECTED
BY EPISCOPALIANS
LAST NIGHT

More than 100 Santa Ana Episcopalians gathered at the Church of the Messiah last night for their annual parish dinner.

Election of the vestry placed on the executive board Leonard Swales, William Wollaston, Lyman Farwell, Dr. James Farley, C. B. Hill, Kenneth Dawson, Wallace Le Gras and Arthur Neilson. Officers will be elected at the first meeting of the vestry.

Favorable financial reports from all organizations of the church led to a recommendation from the Rev. W. J. Hart, that an investigating committee be appointed to consider construction of a parish hall.

The Rev. Mr. Soffley of Los Angeles explained the bishop's pence to the parish and appealed for support.

Compliments were extended the Messiah guild under Mrs. George Chapman on the dinner. The Young People's Fellowship served the dinner.

Welfare Work Expansion in States Is Big Part of Social Security Program

Something new—social security—went into effect Jan. 1 in California, as well as in the United States. How will it work? The following is the seventh of a series of articles answering that question.—Editor.

By ROCH BRADSHAW

Although it has been called one of the smallest parts of the new social security program, the federal project for expanding welfare work in the various states is in itself a project that will require vast expenditures. The plan is comprehensive and far reaching. It is the first for which federal grants will be made to states.

Grants already have been approved by congress and appropriations are expected to be made in the near future.

One phase of the program alone, that of aid to dependent children, calls for an appropriation of $24,750,000. The project will be administered by the national social agency board and will affect states which establish matching systems of pensions for children under 16 years of age. In order to qualify, such children must be orphans, their parents must be absent or incapacitated, and the children must be living "in a residence maintained as a home."

Bureau to Administer
The project will require the states to provide two-thirds of any pension up to $18 a month for the first child and $12 for any additional children.

The Children's Bureau, through state agencies, will administer the maternal and child health program, for which $3,800,000 will be set aside. This project is designed for improving the health of mothers and children. A 50-50 matching basis will be used. The sum of $1,800,000 will be distributed in proportion to the number of births in the states, and $980,000 in proportion to need.

A fund of $2,850,000 also will be

VET LEADERS

CEREMONYSpanish War Soldiers
Install James A.
Randel and Staff

The local camp of United Spanish War Veterans, in joint installation with the auxiliary, inducted into office last night Com. James A. Randel and his staff of officers for the coming year.

Commander Randel served as a cavalryman in both Cuba and the Philippines during the Spanish-American war and the ensuing Philippine insurrection, and has filled all of the chairs leading to the commander's station, having also been drum major of the Calumet drum corps for the past three years.

The hall was decorated by the Royal Neighbors of America in honor of the auxiliary president, Hazel Hall, who is also a member of that organization.

250 Attend

More than 250 persons attended the installation rites, including many visitors from Los Angeles, Long Beach, Pasadena, Redondo, Corona, Le Mirador, Fullerton, Anaheim, Orange, Newport Beach, Olive, San Bernardino, Garden Grove, Westminster and one from Lafayette, Ind. George H. Miller, past commander of the camp, drove from Glendale, and Charles W. Kincaid, past commander of the camp, came from Oceanside.

Department officers of the veterans' organization present were Department Commander Frank J. Zeigler, of Theodoros, Calif.; Commanding Officer, George H. Miller, of Los Angeles; Past Department Commander, Charles E. Dixon, of Calumet, Calif.; Department Chief of Staff, Charles I. Pond, of Ensign, Bagley, Calif.; Pasadena; Department Patriotic Instructor, Frank P. Rowe, of Calumet, Calif.; Assistant Department Quartermaster, Sherman Glaze, of Calumet, Calif.; Garden Grove; Department Aide, Casey A. Cox, of McKinley Camp, Long Beach.

Other notables present were Warren J. Shepherd, Los Angeles, one of the few Spanish war medals of honor men of California; Commander F. M. Pribble, Rollins, Noble camp, San Bernardino; Commander Bert Greenwood, McKinley camp, Long Beach; Commander Charles M. Helme, Los Angeles camp, Los Angeles; Commander, Fred Kinler, Warwick camp, Fullerton; Commander, E. Shouffer, Admiral Bob Evans camp, Long Beach, and Commander Glen Hendrickson of the local Veterans of Foreign Wars post, accompanied by delegations from his own and the Orange V. P. W. post.

Rowe in Charge

Installation ceremonies were directed by Department Patriotic Instructor, Frank P. Rowe, assisted by Past Commander Charles E. Waffie, acting as master of ceremonies. Those installed were: Commander, James A. Randel, senior vice commander, Charles I. Reagan; junior vice commander, Hamilton Moberly; adjutant, Charles E. Dixon; quartermaster, John Markwalder; trustee for three years, Charles E. Chatlain; patriotic instructor, W. W. Tantlinger; historian, M. C. Cooper; chaplain, William Brown; officer of the day, A. P. Dresser; officer of the guard, William A. Vaughan; sergeant major, Kirk M. Sturtevant; quartermaster sergeant, Jacob B. Wine; senior color sergeant, Adolph Erickson; junior color sergeant, Gary M. Field, and chief musician, George V. Area, by proxy of his son, Oscar, who is an honorary member.

Proceeding the installation, a turkey dinner was served to 194 persons. Mrs. Louella Randel roasted the turkeys, and the balance of the dinner was prepared by the Women's Relief Corps of Orange, under Mrs. Grace Deck, president, assisted by Comrade A. T. Hamilton.

Boquets were presented to Frank P. Rowe, James A. Randel and Past Commander A. H. Hall. The latter, as the retiring commander, was presented a past commander's jewel from the camp.

DOHENY DEATH MAY END DAMAGE SUIT

LOS ANGELES.—Whether the death of E. L. Doheny ended a $6,974.327 damage suit against him in connection with asserted fraudulent leases in the Elk Hills oil field was before Federal Judge William James today for decision. William McDuffie, Pan-American Petroleum corporation receiver, had asked that the executor of Doheny's estate be substituted in the oil magnate's place.

FIX WAGE SCALE
ON T. B. WARD

The board of supervisors late yesterday adopted a resolution setting the wage scale for the new tuberculosis ward scheduled to be built at the county hospital. The scale ranges from 50 cents per hour for laborers to $1.25 per hour for plasterers, tile setters, lathers, marble workers, model workers and steam fitters. The scale provides time and one-half for overtime.

Supervisor N. E. West of Laguna Beach commented that the scale is higher than the prevailing wages paid in Orange county. Chairman John Mitchell replied that the scale is set by the Public Works administration, since the building is to be a PWA project. Mr. Mitchell said the project has been approved by the Los Angeles office of the PWA, but federal money has not yet been allocated. The supervisors have not yet advertised for bids.

DIE TANIZE CLUB
OPENS 1936 SEASON

The 1936 dance series will open for Die Tanize club tonight at 8:30 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. rooms. Recently organized among young business men and women of the city, the club is open to employed men and women who like to dance. Dances are held Wednesday nights. A small admission fee is charged.

NOT SO SUNNY IN SUNNY SOUTH

How the traditional Sunny South appeared in an unfamiliar guise, as the cameraman recorded this scene in Atlanta, Ga. The worst ice and sleet storm in the history of the city tied up traffic, tore down telephone poles and caused estimated damage of more than $2,000,000. Trees overburdened with ice produced danger and damage, as shown here.

FARM CENTER
HEADS MEET

Orange county farm center presidents will meet tonight at 6:30 o'clock at the Pickwick cafe, Anaheim, for their annual dinner and forum.

The formal program will be opened by Chairman H. J. Hinrichs at 7:15 o'clock, and will continue at 7:30 o'clock with a short talk by President L. A. Bortz of the farm bureau.

The forum discussion will be featured by a study of the duties of officers of farm centers, and an outline of subjects to be featured in 1936 center meetings, Secretary R. D. Flaherty of the farm bureau said today.

YOUNG PEOPLE TO GIVE PLAY HERE

A trained group of young people, led by Virgil Kraft of Sequim, Wash., will present the play, "Brotherhood," at the First Methodist church Friday night.

Mr. Kraft selected his cast from a group of community players in the Portland area. They started on this tour weeks ago and are presenting this production in towns from Seattle to San Diego.

LOCAL MAN PASSES
DENTAL EXAMS

Walter A. Hoxie, 2024 Victoria drive, was listed today among the seven Southern California men who have passed the state dental examinations held last month.

Announcement of the seven successful candidates was made by the board of dental examiners of the state.

by Past Commander Robert Keyes of Long Beach camp. Past President of the auxiliary, Elva Hunt, played the piano for the floor work.

MASONS' NIGHT IS OBSERVED BY LOCAL DE MOLAYS

In courtesy to patron organizations, DeMolays observed Masons' night at their meeting in the Masonic temple last night.

Scores of visiting Masons were guests at the meeting. Lauding DeMolays for their handling of initiatory work for seven candidates last night, masters of each of the lodges spoke to the group. Those introduced were Dr. H. J. Howard, master of No. 241 F. and A. M.; J. Parley Smith, master of No. 505; Fred Pope, master of Jubilee lodge, and Harry Griffith, high priest of the Royal Arch Masons.

Under direction of Ray Spauld, adviser, the degree was conferred upon Stanley Sebastian, Richard Trivick, Billy Brooks, Frank Tucker, Richard MacMurray, Jack Woods and Robert Horsemann. Shelley Horton, retiring master, introduced Darrell Gaebe, the new leader. Joint installation with Bob's Daughters has been set for Jan. 21.

ASK WATER USE
SETTLEMENT

Requests that they continue in their efforts to settle the question of responsibility regarding the use of water for beneficial purposes in the county will be made of the Orange county water district by the water committee of the Orange county farm bureau, it was decided at the meeting of the committee Monday afternoon.

Sub-committees for the year were appointed at the meeting, as follows:

Underground water laws, R. J. McFadden, chairman; F. D. Plavon and J. J. Denny. This committee reported that the state

HEPBURN NEW COMMANDER
OF FLEETOther Changes in Navy
High Command Told
at Washington

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8. (AP)—Vice Admiral Arthur J. Hephburn, new commander of the navy scouting force, was appointed today to be commander-in-chief of the United States fleet in a general shift of the navy high command. The new commander-in-chief, who will have the rank of admiral, will relieve Admiral Joseph Reeves, who has held that post for more than two years. The change in command will be effective in June after the completion of maneuvers and the return of the fleet to San Pedro, Calif.

Other Changes

Other changes in commands, which have been approved by President Roosevelt, included: Vice Admiral William D. Leahy, now commanding battleships of the United States fleet, will relieve Admiral Harris Lanning as commander of the battle force about April 1. Admiral Lanning will become commandant of the third naval district at New York succeeding Rear Admiral Yates Stirling, due to retire in May.

Rear Admiral William T. Tarrant, commandant of the 11th district at San Diego, will succeed Vice Admiral Hephburn as commander of the scouting force.

Kempff Succeeds Leahy
Rear Admiral Clarence S. Kempff, commanding battleship division one of the battle force will succeed Vice Admiral Leahy as commander of battleships.

Rear Admiral Frederick J. Horne, commanding the aircraft base force, United States fleet, will become commander of the aircraft battle force in June, relieving Vice Admiral Henry V. Butler. The future station of Admiral Butler was not announced.

Rear Admiral Ernest J. King, chief of the navy department bureau of aeronautics, will succeed Rear Admiral Horne as commander of the aircraft base force.

BEAN MEN WILL STUDY INSURANCE

Detailed studies of compensation insurance for lima bean growers will be undertaken during 1936 by the lima bean department of the Orange county farm bureau, it was determined at a meeting of the department held yesterday afternoon.

The compensation insurance subcommittee will undertake a two-fold study, in an effort to secure more equitable rates, and in an attempt to secure more favorable interpretations of the rules in regard to Orange county interests.

The committee is headed by C. Roy Browning, Irvine, as chairman, with W. L. Walscham, Tustin, J. L. Bushard, Tabert, and V. C. Heil, Oceanview, as the other members.

Meaning of Universe Is Challenge, Mrs. John Tessmann Tells Junior Ebells

Membership Discussed By Group

"Stepping Stones of Space" were discussed by Mrs. John Tessmann as she spoke on astronomy last evening before Santa Ana Junior Ebells clubhouse.

From the Hebrew race, which regarded the stars as windows of heaven, which opened when it rained, Mrs. Tessmann traced the growth of astronomical science along with advancing civilizations. She spoke of Aristotle's "music of the spheres" in which all planets moved through crystalline paths which made music for the pure in heart. Invention of the telescope in 1610 by Galileo, Newton's invention of order in the universal scheme, the first calculation of special distances and other highlights were mentioned by Mrs. Tessmann.

"Every day is a challenge to grasp more of the meaning of the universe," she told the junior clubwomen.

Limiting membership to 135, approaching Santa Ana night at the Biltmore hotel in Los Angeles and talking-machine books for the blind were among items considered in the club business session presided over by Miss Nan Mead.

ESTELLE SCHLESINGER ENTERTAINS CLUB AT PRETTY PARTY

Miss Estelle Schlesinger hosted at a pretty party Monday evening in her home on South Birch street for members of her bridge club.

Misses Jerry and Dorine Haupt won prizes in the play.

Gay California pottery was used in serving a supper course. The group gave a layette shower for Mrs. Walter Markel.

Others present were a guest, Miss Gena Rose Murphy of Chatsworth, and Mesdames Walter Markel, Bert Banks, Bert Hoffman, and Misses Bernice Borchard, Helen Markel, Barbara Davis, Elizabeth Meyer, Irene Ravenkamp and Ethel Sturbaum.

COMUS CLUB PLANS DINNER DANCE FOR JAN. 16

Comus club will elect officers at its dinner dance Thursday evening, Jan. 16, in the Orange American Legion clubhouse.

The board of directors will be hosts. No guests are to be permitted. Mrs. Frank B. Miller, secretary, is taking regrets for the evening.

MERRY EVENING IS SPENT AT STORE BY GOODWILL 'FAMILY'

"One big happy family," 48 employees of the Goodwill store in Santa Ana had a jolly roast duck dinner party Monday evening after working hours at the store.

Cares of the day were forgotten as the group chatted and feasted. It was suggested that further store parties be held in the future.

LEMON COVE COUPLE FETED AT PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Haver, son-in-law and daughter of Mrs. Mary Pleis and holiday houseguests in her home on East Myrtle street, were feted late last week with a bridge party on the eve of their return home.

Miss Ella Marie Pleis, daughter

Chic, Yet Available For the Slim Budgets of 1936!

The spirit of 1936 fashions is reflected in this black crepe frock by Lelong. It is one of the practical "after-5-o'clock" models which can do duty for cocktails, dinner or the theater and is cut on simple lines. Horizontal body drapery molds it to reveal the figure's curves and the slender skirt is finished with softly draped back. It has the high neckline and inflated sleeves of 1936. Finally it is accented by a jeweled silver ornament. Louise Bourbon designs the eccentric hat of black felt topped with two swirls of black paradise feathers.

Yacht Club To Have Annual Club Plans For Birthday Party

Skippers, ahoy! Newport Harbor Yacht club has set aside Saturday evening, Jan. 18, for its annual inaugural dinner dance at the Yacht clubhouse.

Officers and directors for the season of 1936 will be inducted into office as follows: H. W. Rohl, commodore; William A. Bartholomae, Jr., vice commodore; Shirley E. Meserve, rear-commodore; Leon S. Hesman, secretary-treasurer, and K. L. Carver, Felix H. Farwell, John E. Jardine and V. O. Wroble, directors.

Dinner reservations are being requested by the steward at the clubhouse.

of the home, gave the party. Miss Betty Jean Pleis assisted her sister in hosting.

Mrs. Kenneth Elford and Harold Watson won bridge prizes.

Marian Martin Designs a Trim Young, All-Occasion Frock

PATTERN 9745

What better frock to begin the New Year with than this—a trim variation of the ever-popular shirt-maker? Practical for any number of daytime occasions, it's an all-around basic style that goes with any set of accessories you may already possess. There's a brisk, military air about it, imparted by those two over-the-shoulder pieces, and isn't the stand-up collar youthful and pert? Note the original manner of pairing off contrasting buttons down the front, and the way an inverted back pleat gives extra fullness to the bodice. A finely checked woolen would make an exceptionally smart version, as would a light serge or a tie silk print. Velvet—with long sleeves, if it's a somewhat dressier frock you had in mind. Complete, diagrammed Marian Martin sew chart included.

Pattern 9745 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards 39 inch fabric.

Send 15 cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, the style number and size of each pattern.

Be sure to send for our new pattern book and see how easily your spring wardrobe can reflect the latest fashions! Dozens of smart models for every occasion—some sketched, some photographed. Lovely new fabrics and how to make best use of them. New costume accessories. Smart slenderizing styles. Clothes budget hints. Patterns for the whole family. Price of book 15 cents. Book and a pattern together, 25 cents.

Send your order to The Santa Ana Journal, Pattern Department, 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana.

J. P. Scripps Moving To Santa Ana

Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Scripps are busy this week moving from San Diego to Santa Ana, where they will make their home.

Pending the sale of their San Diego town house Mr. and Mrs. Scripps have taken an apartment at 1228 North Broadway.

Mrs. Scripps is the former Elizabeth Field McClanahan, daughter of Mrs. Lowry McClanahan of La Jolla, widow of the late Lowry McClanahan of Louisville, Ky. She is a descendant of the Marshall Field family of Chicago and of John Stacks Jones, founder of the pony express, and was a popular La Jolla debutante prior to her marriage to Mr. Scripps last June 28 in Yuma, Ariz.

Mr. Scripps is chairman of the board of the Santa Ana Journal.

GOLD STAR MOTHERS HAVE INSTALLATION

Installation rites were held Monday at Veterans hall for new officers of Gold Star Mothers, under direction of Mrs. Jane Taylor, national historian.

Mrs. Taylor brought with her an installing staff from Long Beach chapter No. 22, her home organization.

Those who assisted were Mesdames Inez Van Hyning, Edith B. Perry, Ida Wade, Josephine Foraker, Mary Richeson and Mary E. Hand.

Officers who took their posts were Mrs. Mary Croal, president; Mrs. Martha Elliott, first vice president; Mrs. Hattie Perkins, second vice president; Mrs. Susie Lamb, chaplain; Mrs. Edith Reynolds, secretary; Mrs. Ione Sharp, recording secretary; Mrs. Ruth Morris, treasurer; Mrs. Emma Christensen, color bearer; and Mrs. Myrtle Stull, sergeant-at-arms.

A turkey dinner at noon, honoring both Gold Star mothers and fathers, featured the day.

M. C. MALONEYS LEAVE FOR NORTH

Mrs. M. C. Maloney and daughter, Mrs. Louise Norton, and the latter's daughter, Alice Louise III, who have been staying at Hotel Santa Ana following the closure of their home at 1620 North Baker street, were to leave today for the San Francisco bay region.

Mrs. Maloney plans to live in San Francisco. Her daughter is to make her home in Berkeley, where she will attend the University of California.

BRIDGE CLUB FETES MEMBER AT PARTY

At their party in her home on Spurgeon street yesterday, members of Mrs. W. W. Barnett's bridge club feted another of their number, Mrs. George Bradley, with a pretty gift shower.

The hostess served a dessert course before the contract play began.

Others present were Mesdames William Jerome, Jr., Joseph Irwin, Leo West and Q. L. Hary and Misses Betty Rowland and Loretta Spangler.

INFORMAL BRIDGE GIVEN SATURDAY

Miss Mattie Bell Wall, 406 West Walnut street, was hostess at a bridge dinner party last Saturday night.

Guests included Miss June Arnold, Miss Dorothy Lindsey, Miss Katie Spicer, Chester Page and Bob Hagens, Santa Ana; Bob Calhoun, San Juan Capistrano; and Art Flint, San Pedro.

Scraps From a Gardener's Scrapbook

By IDA D. DEAKINS

Is there anything more fascinating to a gardener than a packet of seeds?

Just any kind of seed, just so it has been tucked away in a box and almost forgotten. What a thrill to get that box and plan when each packet of seeds might have felt the same thrill over his gold as a gardener does with his seeds.

Now is the time to plant any number of annual seeds. There are always the old favorites, larkspur, godetia, clarkia, candy tuft and phlox. Be sure you plant some phlox. It will bloom for weeks and then seed itself and start all over again. It is one of the most satisfactory of annuals.

I know you have other seeds in mind to plant but let me urge you to get a catalog and pick out something new. You might make a mistake and plant something that doesn't do very well but that is all in the game. But the pleasure you'll get when you go into your garden some morning and find a bloom you have never seen before is worth a disappointment or two.

By the way, if you want to experiment with seedling dahlias or chrysanthemums, now is the time to plant the seeds in flats and transplant later. It's interesting to see the varieties that will come from seeds from one parent plant.

Auxiliary Of Calumpit Installs

Marked by pageantry of martial ritual, officers of Calumpit auxiliary, United Spanish War Veterans, were installed at joint ceremonies with the camp last night in the K. of C. hall.

The rites followed the installation of the camp executives. A team from San Bernardino under Captain Alice Booth in charge of the installation included Martha Mills, Erma Olsen, Helen Graf, Jeanette Comlin, Alice Stuller, Mary White, Thelma Merget and Mary Shilling. They were dressed in white satin, trimmed in red. May Glaze, department president, officiated.

Officers Named

Officers who took their posts were Hazel Hall, president; Jean Tantlinger, senior vice president; Luella Randel, junior vice president; Odella Markwalter, chaplain; Ruth Garst, patriotic instructor; Lulu Chalmers, historian; Elizabeth Erickson, reporter; Elva Hunt, musician; Bertha N. Dixon, secretary; Elizabeth Moberly, treasurer; Effie Hawley, conductor; Elvira Kurtz, assistant conductor; Susan Wine, guard; Addie McCormack, a assistant guard; Marie Lindquist, first color bearer; Alice Gay, second color bearer; Maude Brown, third color bearer; Gertrude Rowe, fourth color bearer; Bessie Fitzpatrick, fifth color bearer; Bertha Helmer, sixth color bearer; Ruth Hess, seventh color bearer; and Emma K. Wassum, eighth color bearer.

Celia Cook, retiring president, was presented with a past president's jewel and a coffee table. May Glaze, presiding over the installation, was presented a gift and flowers. Flowers were offered Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Hall, and Calumpit Camp Commander J. A. Randel, Past Commander Al Hall and Frank Rowe, installing officer for the camp.

The hall had been decorated with baskets of flowers and colorful hangings. Shaded lights were pushed throughout the room.

Honors Awarded

Honors were extended Frank Ziegler, department commander; Charles Pond, department adjutant; Charles Dixon, past department commander; May Glaze, department president of the auxiliary; Cora Field, department treasurer of the auxiliary; Bertha Helmer, department recording secretary of the auxiliary; Edna Hananah, department corresponding secretary of the auxiliary.

Visitors introduced were Marie Stamba, president of Warwick auxiliary, Fullerton; Esther Hendrickson, president of Ernest Kellogg auxiliary, V. F. W.; Katherine Cox, president of San Bernardino auxiliary, U. S. W. V.; Minnie Davis, past president of San Bernardino auxiliary, U. S. W. V.; and Grace Dick, president of the Women's Relief corps of Orange.

TEHATER TO BE TOPIC OF PROGRAM AT A. A. U. W. MEETING

The modern French theater will be discussed in the light of personal observations by Rene Belle of U. S. C. French department at the Orange county A. A. U. W. meeting tomorrow evening in the Y. W. C. A.

The recent grads' group will have dinner at 5:30 o'clock before the general session.

Santa Ana Community Players association members are being invited to attend the meeting. The string trio is to provide music.

FEBRUARY TO BE MARRIAGE MONTH FOR SANTA ANNE

Miss Adelaide Hutchinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hutchinson, 827 East Fifth street, is to be married next month to Vincent Paine, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Paine of Orange.

The bride-elect attended the Victorville High school and came to Santa Ana two years ago.

Mr. Paine attended school in Orange and Santa Ana. He is associated with his father in the wholesale produce business.

The Thinkers

Wherein women of the community express their views on topics of particular interest to women.

Should an adopted child give its parents the same loyalty as if he were really their child?

Mrs. E. U. Farmer: I certainly think so. When a person with no obligation to do so and no knowledge of the hereditary background of a child takes that child to raise and give a chance in life, he merits more gratitude than is due a parent who does for his own child. It is always easier to sacrifice for one's own flesh and blood than for someone else's child. An adopted child should realize this and appreciating the chance given him to make something fine of himself instead of standing alone against the world, should give every loyalty to his adopted parents.

Mrs. George Angne: More, I think. An adopted child's parents take him because they want him specifically. He should realize that fact and that almost certainly they have made sacrifices to have him. He should feel the deepest obligation toward his parents.

Mary Stoddard Can You Measure Love? Is Query of Young Man, Worried About Choice of Prospective Wife

By MARY STODDARD

"Is there a measuring stick for love?" queries a young man.

He thinks he is in love with a certain young woman, but he wants to be sure. It might be infatuation, he fears, so he wants us to diagnose his case.

If he cannot be sure, he's taking chances to place his case in the hands of strangers and abide by such a verdict, for we cannot justly interpret the pulse of his emotions.

Love is a growth. Certainly it begins with a certain stimulation and attraction. But from that point the contributions, sacrifices, mutual experiences, laughter and tears of two people enter into its development.

Readers, here is his letter. If any of you are mind readers perhaps you can help him out.

Dear Miss Stoddard: I have been an interested reader of your column from time to time and have noticed problems that were puzzling and troubling to others solved by your sound advice such as a sympathetic outsider can give.

So I have taken it upon myself to put before you a problem which I thought perhaps you could enter in your column for the benefit of other readers. "Is there a measuring stick for love?"

Unfortunately, it isn't always as simple as this. "The loves me—she loves me not—she loves me—With a heart-felt sigh of relief, we pluck the petals from the daisy and toss it blithely away. It has served its purpose. It has answered the never-ending question, "Is my true love really true?"

When you are thinking of spending the rest of your life with a certain young woman, you want something more trustworthy than the haphazard plucking of a daisy petal to help you decide your fate.

You want to be sure that she is the right woman for you. Not just for today or tomorrow—but forever.

How can I be sure that she really loves me, or am I honestly in love? Is there any way I can tell whether my feeling for a certain girl is something stronger than infatuation? So that's why I appeal to you with this one large unanswered question, "Is there a measuring stick for love?"

IVAN.

VILLAGE SCENE IS SETTING FOR DORCAS CLUB MEET

Snow on the moonlight—the village church—reindeer and little houses—those were the details of the setting that brought ecstatic approval from members of the Dorcas society of the First Christian church at their meeting in the educational building Monday night.

The winter village scene had been arranged to take the stage and extended over several of the tables.

Smaller snow scenes were on the tables where refreshments were served to the guests. The Lyric quartet sang "I Pass By Your Window" and "Speed Well."

New officers were introduced by the retiring president, Mrs. D. H. Tibbals. Chairs had been arranged in a semi-circle around a fireplace. Tall iron candelabra with red tapers cast a warm glow over the room.

New executives for the year will be Mrs. Kenneth Loughton, president; Mrs. A. W. Rime, vice president; Mrs. Fred Perryman, secretary; Mrs. Forrest White, treasurer.

Committee appointments announced by the president named Mrs. Mary Rime to investigation; Mrs. S. Crosby and Mrs. Dale Elliott, foods; Mrs. George Allison, Mrs. C. L. Steen, Mrs. Opie Hagberg, and Mrs. Charles Lawrence, clothing; Mrs. Ted Faulkner, Mrs. Albert Raymond, Mrs. W. L. Copeland, ways and means; Mrs. H. B. Hill and Mrs. M. Lassiter, membership.

Hostesses who served refreshments at the party were Lois Kishner, Leona Lesing, Irene McCoullou, Martha Hill, May Davenport and Sadie Belle Green.

BUSINESS GIRLS PLAN CLASSES

Next Tuesday's meeting of Wye-cene Maedgen will be featured with the inauguration of a new series of classes, according to plans made last night in the Y. W. C. A. rooms.

Organization of a contract bridge class, a play-acting group and a knitting or handicraft section will be completed next week.

On a monthly schedule, the first Tuesday will be devoted to business and classes, the second Tuesday to music and classes, the third to a speaker or full-meeting program with no classes but an informal dance afterwards, and the fourth to music or reading and classes.

Miss Virginia Adams was guest pianist last night, presenting a group of three numbers.

GIRLS' EBELL PLANS TO MEET FRIDAY

Girls' Ebells society will meet Friday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock in the home of Miss Helena Bailey, 311 East Washington avenue. Miss Ruth Warner will share hostess honors.

Miss Bailey is to preside in a business session after the tea hour.

Cast Told For New Play

Who's going to be who? That question, much heard of late with regard to the cast of Santa Ana Community Players' new production, "Cock Robin," to be presented Feb. 7 and 8 in the Ebells clubhouse, was answered today by Gladys Simpson Shafer, director, who has just finished casting.

In the cast of the Elmer Rice Philip Barry play are George McAuliffe, part played by J. Leslie Steffensen; Julian Cleveland, Paul Velez; Richard Lane, Robert Guild; Hancock Robinson, Daniel Brown; John Jessup, Harold Fish; Alice Montgomery, Julia Ann Hyde; Carlotta Maxwell, Mary Clanton Svarthout.

Clark Torrance, Jack Svarthout; Henry Briggs, Leonard Baker; Doctor Edgar Grace, Frederick Wright Briggs; Maria Scott, Gertrude Horn, and Helen Maxwell, Mrs. Harold Moonaw.

MISS JEAN HOY IS FETED AT SHOWER IN HARRIS HOME

Miss Jean Hoy was feted last evening as a shower of kitchen utensils given by Misses Maurine Harris and Merlene Julian in the Harris home on North Birch street. The party honored Miss Hoy on occasion of her approaching marriage to Eugene McKenney.

Bunco prizes went for the evening went to Mrs. R. Deane Smiley and Mrs. W. W. Hoy. The hostesses centered the table with a frying pan holding a lighted candle and sautéed nuts, and used tiny frying pans as candy baskets.

Green and cream kitchenware was given the honoree.

Guests included Mesdames Jean McFadden, Floyd Blower, Donald Dunbar, William Hill, Minor Warne, John Henderson, T. E. McLeod, John McAuley and Misses Jane and Ruth McBurney, Julian, Marjorie Lindsay, Dorothy Dunbar, Annabel McFadden, Margaret and Elizabeth Heemstra, Elizabeth Millen, Eva Marshall and Wilma Hoy.

COUPLE HONORED BY NEIGHBORHOOD CLUB LAST NIGHT

"Put on Your Old Gray Bonnet—"

Strains of the old song favorite told Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Adelman, 2202 Orange avenue, whose golden wedding anniversary will occasion a big open-house party Monday, that they were honor guests at last night's Neighborhood club meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Province, 2206 Orange avenue.

Orange and Maple avenues joined in presenting the Adelmans with two pictures and a reading lamp. Cards and "cootie" were played for prizes.

Golden wedding bells were used throughout the appointments. A dessert course including a gold cake baked by Mrs. Fred Hansen was served.

Guests included Miss Helen Messenger, Harold Jesse and Sid Messenger, who played wedding music, and Mrs. Nell Smith, Mrs. Lettie Rousseau and Messrs. and Mesdames H. V. Brown, L. R. Muck, Howard McHenry, Herbert Birt, L. J. Ozburn, Louis Endres, Earl Lepper, Norman Cowdrey, Floyd Nelson, Stewart Diehl, William Lindsay, Charles Milner, Leonard Hamaker, James Sullivan, Stewart Gibbs, Harry Jesse, Fred Hansen, Richard Metz, Kenneth Savage, McLain and Leonard White.

FIRST 1936 BABY HONORS RETAINED DESPITE CONTEST

In answer to a request from Mrs. M. J. Lynch, Santa Ana, to look into this matter of the first baby born in Orange county in the New Year, a Journal reporter today checked and double-checked to determine just who the "Dawn of 1936" really was. As a result, the decision is that Mr. and Mrs. Juan Gonzales, 514 Fairlawn street, Santa Ana, retain the honor of being the parents of 1936's first born in Orange county.

Mrs. Lynch was under the impression that a child born to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Marvin, Palm Springs, was the first. The child was born at St. Joseph's hospital at 6:45 p. m. Jan. 1. The Gonzales child was born at 2:58 a. m. Jan. 1 at Orange county hospital. Mrs. Marvin was formerly Patricia Lynch of Santa Ana.

THE COMMUNITY DINNER

BY FAR the most important event scheduled for Santa Ana this month is that which is set for the night of Jan. 21. At that time a community dinner is to be held. While it is to be under the auspices of the chamber of commerce, its guests will not be confined to those who happen to be chamber of commerce members. They, if the committee in charge is not disappointed, will be representative of all Santa Ana.

Santa Ana has much to do. Its forward looking citizens are not content merely to live here in a beautiful city and while away their time in an all but perfect climate. They want Santa Ana to go farther, realize greater accomplishments and maintain leadership among the progressive cities of the Southland.

And to bring this about, there must be team work. There must, in the first place, be a better understanding of each other, a tolerance of ideas, a broad vision, a minimum of selfishness, an abundance of community spirit, an absence of hate.

Santa Ana has these qualities and more. It has some of California's soundest minds, best talent and is richly endowed by nature. It is to drop all these symbols of civilization and culture into a common melting pot for the community good that a get-together meeting is planned by the chamber. It is to stimulate frank expression, to take stock, to talk things over as members of a big family do in their own home.

It is, furthermore, planned as a night of good fun, when business cares and personal differences may be forgotten. It will be Santa Ana at its best.

If you have a social engagement for that night, scratch it. If you expect to be out of town, put off the trip if you can. Take the wife and see that she meets everybody and catches the spirit of a greater Santa Ana.

Bury Old Man Gloom and get in step with Young 1936. He promises to be a lively youngster.

THE DIVIDED HOUSE

THESE are dark and foreboding days at the White House. Like any aggressive executive President Roosevelt has brought down upon his head the wrath of those who smart under his lash as well as their sympathizers, together with a group of professionals in the opposing party. Campaign years are troublesome ones for the party in power and extremely trying to the individuals who happen to personify the party.

Latest to join the ranks of Presidential critics is Premier Mussolini through Italy's government-controlled newspapers. The dispatches yesterday told of an attack made upon the President by the duce's personal organ. It repeated the oft-quoted idea of the premier—that America should understand Italy's conquest of Ethiopia because America's expansion from the Atlantic to the Pacific "overcame difficulties of nature and barbarians."

Contrasting the Italian "civilizing mission" to British and French "imperialism," the Milan newspaper noted, among other things, that President Roosevelt, in his message to the joint session of congress last Friday had "no word of condemnation" for the latter.

It was to be expected, of course, that the shoe described in the President's remarks on foreign conquests would fit somebody. The Italian dictator, galled by world-wide criticism, was quick to seize upon an unrest in America, to build up his own cause here.

America, with neutrality its main goal now, may well ponder with care any open breach with its own President. We may differ with Mr. Roosevelt as we will but America must stand by him in foreign affairs during these critical times. It is the old story of a house divided against itself. It would not be difficult to plunge us into international calamity with bidders from without aided by bidders from within.

TRAFFIC WATCH TOWERS

EVERYONE interested in traffic safety—and who is not?—will watch with interest the experiment Motor Vehicle Director Ray Ingels proposes to try on the Bayshore Highway near San Francisco.

From watch towers four miles apart highway policemen will keep an eye on motorists. Reckless drivers will be called to a halt by loud speaker, made to pull over to the side of the road, there to await an officer on the ground, who will give them the appropriate ticket for their offenses.

It ought to work. Motorists will know they are under observation at all times. No longer will they be able to play tag with traffic cops. There will be just enough mystery about it to instill constant fear—the psychology of the "all-seeing eye."

Furthermore it should be economical to operate. One sharp-eyed officer in a tower can watch more of the highway than half a dozen cruising on motorcycles.

Feudal barons erected watch towers on their domains to keep their enemies under observation. Since wild auto drivers are all enemies of society, maybe this proposed return to medieval methods will prove to be the best bet yet.

BANK PREDICTS GOOD BUSINESS

IF YOU care to take the word of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, as published in the Dec. 30 issue of its Survey, we're in for a period of activity. It says:

"Business enters the new year in the most favorable position, from the short-term point of view at least, that has been observed since the depression began.

"Not the least important feature of the situation is the very definite improvement in business sentiment that has taken place, particularly in the last few months. This gain in confidence is due in part to multiplying evidence of greater activity at home and abroad."

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

Older New Yorkers are wondering about the fate of the venerable Murray Hill hotel, now that its proprietor, Ben Bates, has passed over. He was last of the sole owners who gave his inn the Mine Host flavor in the manner of Simeon Ford.

The Murray Hill never tried to catch step with the jazz tempo. The coral pink of its facade, the colonial entrance porch belted by blue carriage lamps, bespoke its dignity. Until a few years ago its patrons were carried up and down by pull rope elevators.

The clientele included several presidents, and many representatives of the aristocratic wealth of its perfunctory. Recently almost a million was spent in refurbishing, but great care was taken to preserve its mid-Victorian air and studied simplicity.

Its owner had received enormous offers in the days when the Grand Central zone was skyrocketing—offers in the millions. But he refused all. For many years an illness confined him to one of the apartments. Out of this grew a sentimental attachment outweighing material gains.

Daniel Frohman dedicates his recent excellent biography to Fannie Hurst. Since her early struggling days in the metropolis, Miss Hurst and the dean of the theater have been warm friends. At her frequent dinners and luncheons, the beloved octogenarian is always present and is often her escort at first nights. Mr. Frohman rarely declines invitations to important affairs. A time or two he has slumped in exhaustive faints at banquet tables, but carries on. He has not retired before 3 a. m. in 40 years. His home is over the Lyceum theater, which he owns.

Incidentally, there are not so many stay-ups among writing folk these days. Such as the late Charles E. Barnes whose flat on Amsterdam avenue was liveliest at 5 a. m. Frazier Hunt, in old robe and green eye shade, could usually be found squared off before a typewriter in a midtown hotel any hour of the night, looking up to visitors at least long enough to nod to the bottled array on the mantel. Montague Class enjoyed late drop-in's, and Ring Lardner, before his last illness, was ready to arise from bed at the zing of the bell and make a fourth at quartetting.

The writers of chit-chat about late stay-ups in night clubs are again festooning their squibs with the name of the glamorous and glamorous girls—Tallulah Bankhead. Her appearance amid such frivolities marks a remarkable comeback in health in the life of this exciting lady of the stage. Two years ago they mentioned Tallulah with head shakes and whispers. A series of operations seemed to offer no encouragement and her fate was regarded as a matter of time. But she fooled, quite pleasantly, the doctors and friends and now is the chief merriment at many parties.

The spiffy bar and restaurant at the Metropolitan opera have given a continental touch to the gloomy old structure. Also it provides the glossier bar crowd New York has never seen. Scarcely a customer not ermined or top hatted. And the evening I popped in there were four monacles—including, of course, the town's most inveterate single eye-glasser, Jules Bache.

Patsy Kelly, graduated to Hollywood stardom, is the feminine prototype of the Horatio Alger up-and-downsidekick hero. Broadway first snickered at her when, in Bowers plaid skirt and faded jersey, Frank Fay cuffed her about as his stooge. He came upon Patsy as an amateur night exhibit. Her shrill voice, gum chewing and rowdy slouch made her a movie moppet that was a natural.

Most people think of Don Marquis as the kind and gentle philosopher. He is all that. But the velvet sheathes claws of steel. His most stinging rebuke was a poetical column on the Evening Sun 20 years ago which blistered one of the Algonquin boys. That sarcasm is still accurately descriptive. In fact I think I'll reprint it some day when in unpleasant mood—just to be nasty. As they so often are.

F. D. R. CAN'T INTERFERE

MANILA, P. I., Jan. 8. (AP)—President Roosevelt informed Emilio Aguinaldo, defeated candidate for president of the Philippines, yesterday he had no authority to act on charges of irregularities in the Philippines commonwealth presidential election.

Directed by two control stations, five radio patrol rosters manned by police are cruising throughout the city for what sponsors claim is South America's first radio control police system.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—With neutrality the dominant issue before congress, a secret test of Roosevelt's neutrality policy is being made by the United States district attorney in New York City.

And so far, one foreign country has been able to throw a wrench into the entire neutrality machinery. That country is Bolivia.

The case involves the alleged purchase of four Curtiss bombing planes by Bolivia in violation of the arms embargo against her and against Paraguay. The four planes left the United States on the pretense of exploring a new air route to Bolivia, and were finally grounded in Peru at the order of the state department.

The department of justice is now attempting to prosecute subsidiaries of the Curtis Airplane company of Buffalo. But company officials have refused to answer certain important questions on the ground that they would incriminate a "friendly" government.

There is no secret that the "friendly" government is Bolivia. State department officials say that the trail leads directly to the door of the Bolivian consul in New York.

However, the Bolivian consul, so far, has been unwilling to testify. And under a commercial treaty between the United States and Bolivia, negotiated before the Civil war, there is no way that he can be compelled to testify.

Justice and state department officials predict sensational disclosures if the testimony can be brought out. Meanwhile they are at a dead end.

(Note—Officials consider this case extremely important as a precedent for enforcing the neutrality act now before congress. If foreign officials cannot be forced to testify, it will be difficult, if not impossible, to prosecute American firms violating the act.)

LADIES OF THE PRESS

Probably no President of the United States has ever enjoyed such harmonious relations with the gentlemen of the press as the wife of the present incumbent has enjoyed with the ladies of the press.

Mrs. Roosevelt's weekly press conference hitherto have dripped with honeyed words and endearing phrases. On any possible slip of the tongue she was protected. When she wore a costume at the party for "wives of the gridiron dinner" which many felt would have caused Republican criticism, not one lady of the press betrayed the secret.

But now a note of coolness has made its unwelcome entrance.

The ladies of the press are being "scooped." In her regular daily column, Mrs. Roosevelt has become their competitor.

The situation was the chief topic of discussion at the last meeting of the Washington Newspaperwomen's club. The capital's leading society editor, Jean Elliot of the Washington Herald, raised the issue publicly. She wrote:

"Mrs. Roosevelt scooped the newspaper women who cover her press conference yesterday.

"In her first daily column in a local newspaper she spoke of a luncheon at the White House for 16 with 'Mr. Regan of Groton School' seated at her right. She didn't tell the press women about it—and nothing could be learned from White House attaches. Maybe she was 'holding out'—maybe she was just 'using a little license in the matter of dates.'"

Anyway, everybody in Washington is now reading Mrs. Roosevelt's daily column.

NOT A SECRET

The securities and exchange commission has pulled a quiet fast one on business executives who have been squawking to high heaven over the publication of their salaries and other financial "secrets."

It is the contention of the SEC that this information is not really confidential. To prove this, the commission recently launched a secret test. It assigned one of its experts to study various financial reports published regularly by a number of corporations.

He found that in virtually every instance, he could uncover selling costs and other pertinent business facts about the concerns which had claimed these were "firm secrets."

The commission did not stop there. It sent a letter to some of the complaining corporations asking them for secret data about their competitors. In every case, the answering company disclosed that it knew all about its competitor's affairs.

In other words, the "business secrets" were secrets only insofar as the public was concerned.

(Note—The SEC plans to reveal the findings of its secret tests when it goes into court to defend itself against suits filed by American Can and several other corporations.)

BUSINESS CENSUS

The nation-wide business census launched by the commerce department last week almost didn't get started.

A few days before the start, Secretary Dan Roper suddenly woke up to the fact that he didn't have enough canvassers.

With thousands clamoring for government jobs and Uncle Dan only too eager to dish out patronage, such a situation would seem impossible. But the reason for it was a Work-Relief rule.

The census is being financed by Work-Relief funds. Such projects are required to employ 90 per cent of their workers from relief rolls. In the larger cities there was no lack of persons on relief who came up to the specifications laid down for canvassers. But in the smaller communities there was a distinct shortage of white collar unemployed.

Pearful that the whole census might be discredited by undesirable personnel in a few sections, Roper made a personal plea to the President for an exemption from the 90 per cent rule. He laid great emphasis on the necessity of obtaining the "right type" of canvassers. Lack of them, he argued, might antagonize business men and cause them to refuse to give information.

His plea went over with the President. Uncle Dan was given permission to go outside relief rolls for canvassers in those localities which suffered a dearth of white collar workers on the dole. It is a safe bet that Uncle Dan will find some good Democrats.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

When electric home and farm authority was looking for a slogan to boost sales of refrigerators, vacuum cleaners, and curling irons, a TVA wit suggested this one: "Let Uncle Sam put a kink in your hair without putting one in your pocketbook."

The People

This department belongs to The People. Letters to the editor on various subjects are welcomed and will be published, provided they do not contain abusive and personal references. Their publication does not necessarily imply the opinions they express are shared by The Journal. Letters must be signed, although signatures will be omitted upon request.

TOO OUTSPOKEN?

Editor The Journal: Don't you think you are speaking out a little too boldly for a newspaper which has been in business here such a little while? I admit we enjoy your frankness and yet—this is because we are interested in your welfare—do people always enjoy being told the truth about themselves and the things they represent?

We have been comparing your paper with one other we take and we notice you are ever so much more enterprising and interesting, but also a bit too outspoken. Possibly we are a bit too sensitive in Orange county but I have been here a long time and I must say we don't appreciate disturbing elements, even though we might and have benefited by them at times.

MRS. C. W. F.

APPRECIATES COURAGE

Editor The Journal: I think it was mighty courageous of you to say what you did in last night's Journal about the supreme court. I am referring to the first page editorial captioned "Is the United States a Nation?" You probably have offended a lot of reactionary interests and I must admit I cannot afford to sign my name to this letter, if it is to be published.

I happen to be in business—and well, you know how it is. If I should express how I feel and say so over my own signature I would be certain to offend some of my good Republican friends. After all I have my investment to protect.

But I do want you to know I appreciate—and so do many others—a newspaper which has the courage and the wisdom to take the just and sensible side of public issues. Some way it gives me a sense of security and a satisfaction I would not otherwise have.

A MAN YOU KNOW.

SHERIFF JACKSON

Editor The Journal: I hope you will give this letter the consideration you have given others sent in by your readers. As you were not here during the last election, I would like to tell you a few things about it.

On the night of July 23 Balboa held the Tournament of Lights. A big crowd was there and Sheriff Jackson and his deputies closed the gambling games there. They had been running for three years prior and he had done nothing about it.

After the sheriff had closed them he came out in his advertisements and said it was "Time to meet the gamblers' challenge." He gave them the downhill until he was re-elected and then they reopened. One of Sheriff Jackson's opponents, Capt. Wilkie, said that if he was elected he would keep the games closed and if they should reopen he would have the power as sheriff to close them.

Sheriff Jackson may have fooled the people once on the gambling issue but when he comes up for re-election, I am sure he will run again. The church people and other true citizens of Orange county will remember his remarks.

A SUBSCRIBER.

Perhaps the Republica, following the first Roosevelt, will accept the challenge to save capitalism by throttling monopoly and substituting competition for bureaucratic control—Representative Theodore Christianson, Minnesota.

One Man's Opinion

By Duncan Ellsworth Clark

EDITOR'S NOTE—Here is an informative, analytical daily feature on current topics. The opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily the same as those held by The Journal.

Professional Warmongers Cause Trouble at Home

MANY of us, perhaps most of us, look to the international situation for 1936 with much apprehension. World peace has come an agency of power and prestige. War is painting lurid flames on all horizons. Nations are straining at their leashes, snarling with mad impatience to be up and going.

The international balance seems so frail, so deadly sensitive to every gust of wind and passion. Fear stalks among the peoples, gaunt and haggard eyed, coupled with consuming hate. Not when the explosion comes, but where, is the pertinent question.

Into this frenzy have our self-appointed spokesmen dragged us. Not a week, hardly a day, has passed but muzzling senators have not had the dogs of war at our very throats. If not Pittman of Nevada, or Nye of North Dakota, or other legislators, then it has been military and naval strategists bellowing their craven suspicions that some threatening power, from some distant quarter, is ready to enslave the American people.

With this clamor they blind us to more immediate, sinister dangers at home, which would rob us of our liberty. But, of course, professional warmongers, must talk war to justify their dreadful costs.

The plain truth seems to show that the world is markedly nearer to peaceful solution of its problems than for a long time. The

SKINNY SKRIBBLES

Around and About Town

With F. F. SKIRVIN

The state of Michigan, or at least the authorities in the state of Michigan, evidently have a sense of humor. I noticed yesterday on Barney Oldfield's car that the license plate read, "B-O." Now that may stand for Barney Oldfield, but I've heard of other things that it stood for. Chief Floyd Howard wanted to know whether or not the famous speedster was advertising soap, or just bragging.

Went out to the Santa Ana-Tustin Mutual Citrus Association annual meeting today, and missed everything but the turkey dinner. Having had previous introductions to this event I've become a consistent customer.

Ray Martin, who flings a safe razor, is ready for business again after an enforced absence due to an infection which attacked his operating hand. My experience has been that a tonsorialist with a steady hand always gave me the greater assurance. It isn't so very difficult for them to "break through" when it comes to operating, and my preference is for the fellow who, while I may not have the skin he likes to touch, will figure that he is on thin ice.

Milan Miller, so the story runs, has sent to Ed. Guard a baseball catcher's mask, with the suggestion that he use it when making collections. Another case of brotherly love.

Don't know when George Wheeler became a weather prophet, nor did I ask for his credentials, but he assured me yesterday noon that we would soon be favored with a rain. Now let us hope that he has the right information. As the situation stands today ranchers are irrigating from the foothills to the ocean, and that takes a lot of water and along with it considerable cash. Then along comes the more cheerful soul who says the late rains are the most beneficial, and we may expect them. This question of water is always present whether we have flood control elections, or just prayin' or payin' our way along.

Les Fountain wanted everybody to know that he attended his service club meeting, so he comes down on the street with his badge as conspicuous as a lighthouse beacon. That wasn't enough, so he criticized another member for not being present. It was a proud day for Les.

Fred Merker spends two cents to notify me that I am a member of a team to collect a program for a service club. Fred is the other member. He's got to get the singer, and I'm to get the singer. No wine, and the vocalist will be our sex. Looks like a big time. I've got my man—all I need now is his consent.

This columnist business isn't so funny. Couple of Nazis give Walter Winchell a "sock" on the jaw. Not so long ago Al Jolson registered an objection. Before anything happens to me may the news precede the contemplation, that half of the things said in this column are meant in fun, and the other half not funny. But if you must hit someone give me time to get my man.

Along about 2:30 a bunch of friends refuse to talk to me. They have wire trouble. It's the Santa Ana race results. So I always finish last.

I started to cry on Judge James Allen's shoulders about the ever-increasing tax burden, and the consolation he offered was that everything was being taxed except Air. And then it occurred to me that even Air was expensive, you had to range it from cold air in the winter to hot air. Maybe that expenditure can be avoided this year as we have a presidential election coming.

One of these days I'm going to Santa Anita to find out what all this horse race is about. Hear 'em talking about handicaps and other terms applied to the sport which require investigation. Want to know where some of these wires go, and what they say. Frank Briggs wants to take me, but his invitation has been refused because he wants to leave me.

Away back when Miami real estate sold for more per front foot than on Fifth avenue in New York, the most discriminating bum paid little attention to a discarded cigarette or cigar unless it was about 75 per cent natural. So when a full-sized cigar is observed at the corner of Fifth and Main it attracts a lot of attention, even though it has no takers. Patrolmen Bud Herd and Ralph Pontuso waited to see who the customer would be, but gave up when he caused them to conclude that better times were to be had in spite of the AAA decision. Later on they discovered an auto park manager with a sore finger and concluded the discarded cigarette had found a home.
